B. In Brazil, many young students find it hard to hear well. Without technology, learning can be difficult. But with special listening devices, the sound can be louder so they understand better. They can also read captions on screens to help them even more every day.

Dear Salim,

How are you? I want to tell you about a sport I started last year. It is karate. I practise karate every Monday and Wednesday at the sports centre in my town. My teacher is very kind and always shows us new moves. At first, I was shy, but now I feel stronger and more confident. Karate is good for the body and mind. It helps me stay calm and focus on schoolwork.

Today, I met my friend Sami at the park. He was reading the WOW! Magazine. I also read it online, and Sami shared my hobbies in WOW! I told him I enjoy staying active and healthy. Sami practices karate and enjoys football too. I showed him a karate move, and he laughed—it was really fun!

Last week, I joined in a small competition and won a silver medal.

Best wishes,

Ali
