read along as you listen.

What do you think people mean when they say a town or neighborhood has a good quality of life?

Do You Know Where This Place Is?

Look at each photo, read the text, and guess the name of the city or country. In what ways is it similar to or different from where you live?

Japan

The public transportation system is the most efficient in the world. The bullet trains can travel at 186 miles (300 kilometers) per hour and are extremely punctual. Fares for the express trains are as expensive as airplane fares, but overall, the time required for the train trip is usually shorter, since there is no need to travel to an airport.

Hong Kong

The city is known to be one of the safest cities in the world. The overall crime rate is roughly the same as that of Singapore, but lower than that of Tokyo, Toronto, and many other large cities.

Cambridge (England)

It is home to one of the oldest universities in the world and one of the largest. Nowadays, the town isn't as quiet as it used to be, but the quality of life is still just as good. There are lots of green areas, and a quarter of the population cycles around the town: over the bridges, through the parks, and along the narrow streets.

- Surveys show that the city has the worst traffic in the world. It is worse than Sao Paulo, Brazil. The average commuter spends four hours in traffic per day. There are approximately 6 million cars, taxis, buses, and other vehicles carrying 22 million people.

This place does not have a lot of crime. (Hong Kong)
It takes a long time to get to school or work in this place. (Mexico City)
It's easy to travel between cities in this place. (Japan)

1. We live in a small town, and my grandparents live in a very big city. It takes less money for my family to live in our small town house than it takes for my grandparents to live in their big city apartment. Our cost of living is lower than my grandparents'.
2. Berlin's public transportation system is awesome. We visited the city last year. And they have an amazing subway. It's always on time and doesn't cost a lot. It's very punctual and efficient.
3. An apartment and a small house are two examples of housing that is available in the city. Both the houses and apartments aren't very big. They're really small and cozy.
4. I love Denver, Colorado. It's an awesome city to live in. There are a lot of trees and parks. With all the green spaces here in the city, it's really easy to go walking or cycling whenever I want. That's important to me, my family, and my friends. We think the quality of life in Denver is the best of any city in the world.
5. Todd lives in the suburbs and not in the big city. He likes his neighborhood. It's safe and quiet, and people know their neighbors. In fact, there hasn't been a robbery in his neighborhood for two years. The crime rate is definitely lower in his neighborhood than in the city.

Teaching Tip

Always predict the language students will need for oral activities. For example, if you ask students to rank something, such as the quality-of-life indicators, review the use of ordinal numbers.

Additional Activity

Have students make comparisons about living choices. Write choices on the board. For example: live in a house/in an apartment; live in the city/in the country; work in an office/at home; have good schools/good public transportation. Write on the board: Is it better to live in a house or an apartment? Have a few students respond. Be sure they give reasons for their choices. Then have students ask one another questions in groups. Have one person in each group report back to the class about the group's answers.
