Topic: A Journey to Discover Heritage

The narrator recounts their experience visiting their ancestral village, a place they had only heard about in family stories. Initially hesitant, the narrator was unsure of the connection they would feel. Upon arriving, they discovered a deep sense of belonging as they walked through the village, explored historic sites, and spoke with elders. By listening to the stories of the village's history, they began to understand the importance of their heritage. They visited local landmarks, where ancient customs and traditions were still being practiced, and spoke to locals about family rituals that had been passed down for generations. Through this experience, the narrator realized how important it is to maintain a link to one's roots, understanding that traditions and history provide a strong foundation for personal identity.

Questions:

- 1. Why did the narrator initially hesitate to visit their ancestral village?
 - a) They disliked traveling.
 - b) They felt disconnected from their heritage.
 - c) They were too busy.
 - d) They didn't believe in their family traditions.
- 2. What helped the narrator build a connection to their roots?

traditional art. Some argue that the rapid rise of digital art undermines the skill and authenticity of traditional methods. Yet others believe that digital tools simply enhance the artist's ability to convey their message in new and exciting ways. Art, in its many forms, remains a reflection of society and a powerful means of communication.

Questions:

1. What is the tone of the passage?
 - a) Optimistic
 - b) Critical
 - c) Balanced
 - d) Pessimistic
2. What does the passage suggest about digital art?
 - a) It is a replacement for traditional art.
 - b) It has caused the downfall of traditional art forms.
 - c) It offers new ways to express creativity.
 - d) It is not valuable.
3. According to the passage, what is a possible advantage of digital tools for artists?
 - a) It diminishes artistic expression.
 - b) It provides a new medium for creativity.
 - c) It discourages traditional art methods.
 - d) It restricts the artist's skill development.

Part 4: Connections and Main Ideas (7 Marks)

Topic: Technology and Cultural Preservation

Technology plays a crucial role in preserving cultural heritage. Through digital archives, ancient texts, and traditional music recordings can be saved and shared with the world. Language preservation has benefited immensely from technology, with online platforms offering courses in endangered languages and tools for documentation. Moreover, social media has given individuals from various cultures a platform to share their traditions and customs with a global audience. However, there are also risks associated with technology's role in cultural preservation. For example, an over-reliance on digital platforms could lead to the loss of authenticity in cultural expressions, as younger generations may become disconnected from the physical practices of their ancestors. The rapid pace of technological change also risks making cultural knowledge obsolete, as newer methods may overshadow traditional ones.

Questions:

1. How does technology contribute to cultural preservation?
 - a) By making traditional knowledge obsolete.
 - b) By enabling the sharing and saving of cultural elements.
 - c) By eliminating cultural practices.
 - d) By replacing older methods of cultural expression.
2. What risk is associated with over-reliance on technology in preserving culture?
 - a) It could lead to a greater appreciation of traditions.
 - b) It could result in the loss of authenticity and disconnection from traditions.

- c) It ensures the preservation of every cultural aspect.
 - d) It provides an entirely accurate representation of cultural practices.
 3. According to the passage, what is a consequence of the rapid pace of technological change?
 - a) It helps preserve all cultural practices.
 - b) It ensures traditional cultural knowledge is shared widely.
 - c) It could lead to the overshadowing of traditional methods.
 - d) It connects cultures through digital archives.
