The Box

Can you open it for me, please? I want to know what's inside," Qasim asked.

"I can't. It's too difficult to open. This box looks very old," said Abdullah.

The day before, Saad called Abdullah and Qasim and said, "Are you two ready for another adventure?" They both agreed. "Great, shall we meet tomorrow at the bus stop?" he asked.

"Yes, will you text us the directions later? I hope that it won't be too hot," Abdullah said.

Qasim was excited. It's always fun when Saad comes over to my house, he thought. I'm glad I met him in Cycle 2. This adventure is going to be the best!

Saad wrote them the text, "Shall we get the bus at 8am? To get there from my villa, you turn right and walk to the end of the road, turn on to the big road and you'll see it. Before we meet, I'm going to go to the shop to get water and check the weather."

They travelled a while, then the bus arrived at the last stop. When they got off, the boys were going down a small road, pointing to a large ghaf tree. Saad said, "That's where we're going, boys. When I went inside the coffee shop, I heard an old man talking. He said that a long time ago, people buried things near the tree. They

A Special Tree

"Grandfather, can I ask you about ghaf trees? My friend and I are going to write a report on it for class, but we don't know much about it," said Khalid.

His grandfather began to speak, "I know some interesting facts about these trees. They grow here in the Middle East, but also in Asia and Africa. Plant them, and they will easily grow. They can live for more than 120 years in the desert. It's interesting that they grow without much water. In the past, travellers used the ghaf tree to make medicine. Farmers also used the leaves for animal food.

In the hot and dangerous desert, travellers were sometimes hurt by snakes and scorpions. When that happened, their hope was to find a ghaf tree. They could use the water from the tree to clean their cuts. Travellers could also lie down to sleep under the tree during the night if they were travelling far.

Today, people still love ghaf trees. They plant ghaf trees in hot deserts to help animals like goats and camels. The desert eagle owl lives in the ghaf and the oryx and desert fox rest near them. The wood is used to build houses and for fires. People even eat the leaves in salads. This type of salad is very special. The ghaf is so important that it is the national tree of the UAE."

When his grandfather finished, Khalid said, "I hope to make sure more of them grow. Thank you, grandfather, I will tell my friend you helped us a lot."

Mr. Hamza continued, "5 (plan / hope / say) that what I say next will help you stay safe. Try to stay together and make sure you have enough water and food for the trip. If you get lost, I would like you to 6 (go back / go around / go soon) to look for the big ghaf tree and wait there."

Aisha put her hand up and asked, "When 7 (can / would / must) a good time to meet my group members? Also, 8 (can / must / have) we rest at any time?"

"It is good to meet them before you go into the desert together," replied Mr. Hamza. He continued, "You need to go 9 (back / inside / down) the difficult sand dunes with your group. Make sure you have one another's contact information."
