Entrepreneurship is simply the process of designing, launching, and running a new business or enterprise, by coming up with new ideas and ways of doing things. Entrepreneurship is an art of creating something new

Firstly, Entrepreneurs have some personal qualities to be successful .They have good communication skills and solving problems ,They are creative , competitive , flexible , and open -minded people .They always monitor the market and think of what the market needs. They think outside the box and come up with innovative solutions to problems. They don't wait for someone else to tell them what to do. They are willing to take risks anyway. They are determined to succeed. They never give up, even when things get tough.

On the other hand, there are some factors that affect entrepreneurs negatively. Some businessmen put a poor business planning without deep understanding of the market's needs. Their business plan lacks reality and organization. Others start their business with big loans and huge expenses. Moreover the bad location and poor advertisement lead to bad marketing , In addition If the businessman has a rigid strategy and doesn't need to be flexible ,he won't be able to monitor the market. Some don't have more experience or business skills. All these mistakes will definitely result in failure from the start.

The government can provide help and support to younger entrepreneur. They can provide facilities and loans that reduce the burden of new business, For example The government excuses start up – business from taxes they. There are a lot of online service and programmes to support younger work owner to grow his business. Schools teach students about business to create link with between business and education to be skilled worker for companies.

In conclusion, Entrepreneurship is the process, skill, ability to create opportunities, solve problems and contribute into the society since it has made a wide effect on economy growth of the country. Starting business is not easy. It requires good planning to gain success and avoid failure. .

Family provides a greater sense of security and belonging. Family structure has changed a lot Now and then, Social media and parents work have a great impact on family relationship.

Families in the past were different from families today. In the past families were extended families that include three or more generations live together in one big house, including parents children, grandparents and uncles and aunts, However, families today are immediate families that including parents and children only. This change is because of the migration from farms to cities. Extended families often gathered for family events for helping and supporting each other, This created positive relationships and pass traditions when grandparent pass tradition .All these things are missing in immediate families today.

Families today are addicted social media with more social media we have. We think that we connecting, yet we are really disconnecting from each other Families don't have more time to visit each other face to face, because it's an easier way to connect by social media .According to a study on media influence, kids spent over 7 hours a day using electronic media, As a result technology is breaking down family communication. The children were found to more likely to engage in risky behaviors

Future will have a big change in families children will interact with their parents via more technology. Using computers, hand-held devices, or children will be taught how to read and do math, play games, by robots .There will be more gender equality between male and female in sharing responsibilities and household. Moreover virtual families will be more common in the future.

In conclusion.. Social media is a big factor of this family change. I think Setting aside family time, such as family meals, game nights, talking about each other's free of phones, is a key to learning to interact with each other face-to-face. The role model of Extended families help children gain desired behavior and good values.

Lifestyle in your culture today different from your grandparents'. Technology has played a vital role in people's lives. It has a great impact on our lifestyle. In this essay, I will talk lifestyle now and then, and how it will be in the future.

In the past lifestyle was different from today .young teenagers had left schools at 12 to work and support their families. They worked hard from sunrise to sunset. They didn't have much free time to meet friends or play games because they went home back exhausted from a tiring work, They had healthy lifestyle with eating natural organic food .Nowadays teenagers complete their educations and have more free time to meet friends and play games using social media. They depend more on fast food which leads to some health problems. Some do a few do outdoor activities like sports.

Technology affects almost every aspect of 21st century life, from transport efficiency and safety to access to food and healthcare, productivity. The power of the internet has enabled global communities to share ideas and resources more easily to be However, the overuse of some technology has been linked to a decline in mental health, as staring at the screen for a long time causes health problems.

There will be big changes in lifestyle in the future. It will depend more on technology which make life easier. People will use more virtual reality on business. People won't make great efforts at work. They will have online meeting for business. Shopping will be done by robots and drones. Virtual schools will be more popular. Lessons will explained by robot teachers. Drones will deliver shopping, smart homes with robots will make household and chores easier. People talk to machines and gives order to them.

In conclusion our lifestyle is always changing because of technology and social media.

. I think lifestyle are more relaxing and comfortable. Everything is done by just pressing the button. , But we should reduce using devices and practice outdoor activities like sport to be active and have healthy lifestyle

Task 6

Nowadays most parents have a job. Parents want to achieve balance between family and career both the father and the mother work. Write an opinion essay about work of the balance between work and life. (200 words)

- Why do both parents need to work?

Nowadays most parents have a job. Parents want to achieve balance between family and career . The work of both parents affects widely on family life. Some people thinks working both parents has some advantages while others disagree with this point of view. I think only a few families manage to achieve balance between job and family.

First of all working both parents has a lot of advantages. Nowadays the demand of life requires both parents to work full time. The main reason is to raise the family income and increase the standard of living. As a result, both parents work to earn more money to raise their children well and be able to provide good education for them as the expenses increases. Furthermore children learn some skills like responsibility when they look after their younger siblings.

In fact women worked in many fields of work like banking, business, medicine, law and policy. She reached a high point at work. She gained some skills such as independence, power, equality with men and strength, besides wealth and supporting her. I strongly agree with women's work as I believe that with the increase cost of living, one income is not enough, so both parents should work to support life.

On the other hand, there are some negative sides for working both parents. It affects badly on family life relation which is full of stress .This will creates an emotional gap between and parents and children , for example They don't have more time to spend their time with children and monitor their behavior . This definitely leads to family breakup and threatens family stability. Furthermore with the lack of care of parents, problems become popular like addiction of drugs, more bad behavior like bullying.

In conclusion, Parents want to achieve balance between family and career. I think Parents can share chores and responsibilities .They also work on shifts or have flexible work, so that they could change time of work easily. Wealthy people can hire a nanny or ask help from relatives. They should organize their time and involve children in household. Parents should try hard to keep balance between life and work.

Task 7

Families raise and their children in different ways. Is it bad to for parents to always dote on their kids?

Write an opinion essay about of parent way to raise their children. (200 words)

- *Is it bad to for parents to always dote on their kids?
- *How does upbringing affect the behavior of a child?
- *How are parents supposed to treat their child?

Families raise and their children in different ways. Some families think it is good to treat children easily, while others disagree with this point of view .I think families should treat children wisely because Family is the basis of society. It provides members to the society.

Some families dote on their children. They think that it is a kind of much care and love. For example, they do everything what the child needs or likes. Extended families have played a role in spoiling the children especially the youngest child. Other parents favor one child more than others like the oldest or the youngest. Parents are busy all time at work so they try achieve Child's desire and bring whatever he wants .As a result of this ,I think doting will leads to some bad behaviour like arrogance or feeling one is better than others and selfishness when they think of themselves only . At the same time favouritism one child surely resents the other siblings and creates bitterness, jealousy and hate which leads to violence and conflict.

On the other hand, other parents believe it is better to treat children with a tough way. due to their perception, when children get harsh criticism, child will learn from his mistakes and won't make wrong things, so that he become more responsible. In fact this surely affected badly on self-esteem .They will have no confidence. In this way, the child will learn bad behaviour like lying as he is afraid of punishment. I strongly disagree with them. In my opinion, when children are badly hurt by their own parents, they can't forget this treatment all the life and build weak personality .

In conclusion some parents dote on their children while others treat them in a harsh way. In my point of view, parents should be fair with children and advise them. They try to build a positive relationship with them to be a good citizen who can serve himself, his family and his home as well.

Parenting styles have changed over the years, In the past, parents were more likely to adhere to strict rules and schedules with little room for flexibility., Families used to be larger, so parents didn't have as much one-on-one time with their kids. The parent style was command and control—kids have to obey their elders without question.. Nowadays parents give children more freedom and independence.

Some parents dote on their children while others treat them in a harsh way. Both ways wrong ways of bringing up. In my point of view, parents should be fair , moderate with children and advise them , It is important to give children more freedom and independence.. The family relationship should be based on love, care and understanding .family teach them good manner and values to ensure your kids grow up respecting others, they try to build a positive relationship with them to be a good citizen who can serve himself, his family and his home as well.

Parents want to achieve balance between family and career. I think Parents can share chores and responsibilities .They also work on shifts or have flexible work, so that they could change time of work easily. Wealthy people can hire a nanny or ask help from relatives. They should organize their time and involve children in household. Parents should try hard to keep balance between life and work.

In conclusion strong families give children a safe, secure place to be themselves and learn about who they are. Because children in strong families feel secure and loved, they have confidence to explore their world, try new things and learn. And they can deal better with challenges with family support
