Pros and Cons of Our Digital Age"

"Can you imagine our life without technology? Technology is a double-edged sword; undoubtedly, it enhances our lives, facilitating convenience and progress. However, it demands a careful balance between its advantages and the potential challenges it brings."

On one hand, technology has a lot of advantages. For example, in transport, technology helps us travel much faster and more comfortably. Moreover, with the help of the internet technology, we can instantly communicate with other people in very distant places through social media. In addition, new technologies in medicine aids people who lost their limbs to live a normal life with new artificial ones.

On the other hand, there are some disadvantages of technology. It has made people lazier and less active. Also, using too much technology has led to some health problems like diabetes and obesity. Moreover, many people have lost their jobs because of technology.

To avoid the consequences of using too much technology, we should limit the use of technology and stop relying too much on it as it might be damaged or stop working and put us in very critical situations.

To conclude, technology helps us live an easy and comfortable life, however we should be careful when using it to avoid any possible problems.

The past life in the UAE

In fact, life in the UAE 50 years ago was extremely different from the present life. People lived a simpler, but harder life. In my essay, I will explain how life was like in the past in the UAE.

Emirati people used to live in humble homes made of clay and mud. Some lived in different homes made of palm trees. Nomads, who moved from place to place in the desert, used to live in tents made of the sheep wool.

There were a few jobs that people did to earn their living. Farming and pearl diving were the main jobs at that time. Fewer people were trading different goods inside and outside the country. Similarly, people used to move from place to place using simple methods of transport such as camels and horses. Only rich people were able to own cars.

In the past, Emirati families were much connected. They used to gather to converse about their daily routine and have fun. They used to share each other's moments of happiness and sadness.

In conclusion, Emirati people lived a harsh life in simple houses with a little access to good jobs or transportation, however they were much connected and caring.

Our Perfect Day of Togetherness"

In the heart of summer's warmth, our family convened for a celebration that would become a cherished chapter in our shared history.

Nestled in the serene embrace of Grandma's countryside home, the occasion was nothing short of magical—a grand reunion woven around Grandma's birthday.

As the sun bathed the landscape in golden hues, we embarked on the sweet tradition of baking a colossal birthday cake, laughter reverberating through the kitchen. Picnicking in Grandma's backyard followed, with a feast of family favorites uniting us under the open sky. From the heartfelt exchange of homemade cards to a talent show spotlighting our diverse skills, each tradition and activity painted vivid strokes in the canvas of our family narrative.

As the sun dipped below the horizon, we raised a collective toast, grateful for the strong ties that bound us. In essence, Grandma's birthday celebration wasn't just an event—it was a mosaic of love, a living testament to the strength of our family connections.

Sample of part 3: نموذج من السؤال 3

Read the text and answer the question:

Last summer, I vacationed in a stunning coastal town with clear skies, pristine beaches, and delectable local food. The friendly locals, always eager to share their town's history, created a warm and welcoming atmosphere. One of the trip's highlights was a breathtaking boat tour to nearby islands with turquoise waters and lush greenery. Snorkeling among colorful fish and coral reefs was an unforgettable adventure.

The local cuisine was a gastronomic delight, offering fresh seafood, regional specialties, and mouthwatering desserts. Every meal felt like a culinary journey through the area's flavors and traditions. In summary, my vacation was fantastic making me eager to return next year.

Question:

Why did the author find their vacation to the coastal town fantastic? Give an example from the text to explain.

A Day in the Life: Sarah's Daily Routine

Sarah is a busy woman with a full schedule. Her daily routine is essential in helping her stay organized and manage her time effectively. Let's take a closer look at how she spends her day.

Morning Routine:

Sarah starts her day at 6:30 a.m. She begins with a quick shower and then gets dressed for work. She enjoys a cup of coffee and a light breakfast while checking her emails to see if anything important has come up overnight. By 8 a.m., she's ready to head to the office.

Work Day:

Sarah works as an office manager, and her days are filled with meetings, phone calls, and emails. She takes a short break at noon to have lunch with her coworkers. She prefers to bring a homemade sandwich or salad, as it's a healthier and more cost-effective option. After a busy day, she finishes work at 5:30 p.m.

Evening Routine:

Once she's home, Sarah likes to unwind. She usually goes for a 30-minute walk to relax and clear her mind. Afterward, she prepares dinner, often trying new recipes she finds online. By 8 p.m., it's time to catch up on her favorite TV shows or read a book. She tries to get a good night's sleep by going to bed at 10:30 p.m.

Weekends:

On weekends, Sarah's routine is more flexible. She enjoys sleeping in a bit, and her mornings usually start with a hearty brunch. She likes to do some gardening or take day trips to explore new places. Saturdays and Sundays provide her with a break from her busy workweek.

Reflection:

Sarah's daily routine helps her maintain a work-life balance, ensuring that she can manage her responsibilities while also finding time for herself and her interests.

The Impact of Technology on Our Lives

Technology has become an integral part of our daily lives. From smartphones to laptops, from smart home devices to wearable gadgets, technology has changed the way we work, communicate, and live. Let's explore some of the key areas where technology has made a significant impact.

Technology has revolutionized the way we communicate. Email, social media, and instant messaging have made it easier to stay in touch with friends and family, even if they are thousands of miles away. Video calls and virtual meetings have become the norm, allowing for face-to-face conversations from different corners of the world.

In the field of education, technology has opened up new opportunities for learning. Online courses and e-learning platforms have made education accessible to a broader audience. Students can now access information, resources, and lectures from the comfort of their homes.

Medical technology has advanced significantly. From telemedicine appointments to robotic surgeries, technology has improved patient care and made medical services more efficient. Wearable fitness devices and health apps help individuals monitor their well-being and make healthier choices.

The workplace has evolved with technology. Many jobs now require computer skills and the ability to navigate various software applications. Remote work, made possible by technology, has become more common, providing flexibility for employees.

Technology has transformed entertainment. Streaming services allow us to watch movies and TV shows at our convenience. Video games have become more immersive and interactive, offering exciting experiences for gamers.

While technology has brought about numerous benefits, it's important to be aware of its potential drawbacks. Issues related to privacy, cyberbullying, and screen time have emerged as concerns in this digital age. Therefore, it's essential to use technology responsibly and mindfully.

In conclusion, technology has shaped our lives in profound ways. It has improved our ability to connect with others, access information, and enhance our daily experiences. As technology continues to advance, it will undoubtedly bring more changes, both positive and challenging, to our lives. →

Part 3 : Inference question

Read the following text and answer the question below in full sentences

Once upon a time, in a world filled with modern technology, there lived a young boy named Saif. He loved playing video games and scrolling through social media on his phone. He was always stuck to the internet and couldn't imagine a life without technology.

One day, Saif's phone suddenly stopped working. He tried everything he could think of to fix it, but nothing worked. He felt lost without his phone and didn't know what to do. He decided to go for a walk to clear his head.

According to the text above ,what can you infer about Saif's connection with technology?

Saif has a very strong connection with technology. He is completely reliant on his phone to get entertained and communicate with the people around him through social media. He gets lost when he is disconnected to his phone.

Part 4: Justification question

Write your answer in full sentences

Why is your answer to the inference question the best answer?

Use the information in the text above to support your answer.

My answer to the inference question is the best answer because the text indicates that Saif is very connected to his phone as it says that he was always stuck to the internet and couldn't imagine a life without technology. It also adds that he felt lost without his phone and didn't know what to do. It seems as if he is addicted to his phone, and he is searching for a kind of therapy like walking to recover from his addiction to the phone.

Part 3 : Inference question

Read the following text and answer the question below in full sentences

In a small town nestled in the mountains, there lived a young girl named Carla. She loved spending her days exploring the woods and playing with her friends. But one day, Carla's world changed when she discovered social media.

At first, Carla was excited to connect with people from all over the world. She loved sharing pictures of her adventures and seeing what others were up to. But soon, Carla found herself spending more and more time on her phone, scrolling through endless feeds, and comparing herself to others. Carla's friends noticed a change in her. She became more distant and less interested in playing outside. They tried to talk to her about it, but Carla was too caught up in the world of social media to listen.

One day, Carla stumbled upon a post that made her feel terrible about herself. She felt like she didn't measure up to the perfect lives she saw online. She started to doubt herself and her worth.

According to the text above ,what do you think will happen next in the story?

After seeing that unpleasant post, Carla will start to evaluate her experience with social media and compare between her life before and after using social media. She will find out how her life before using social media was much better and more peaceful. Therefore, she will stop using social media and will continue enjoying the nature around her.

My answer to the inference question is the best answer because the text shows that Carla loved spending her days exploring the woods and playing with her friends. In addition, the bad post she read and made her feel terrible about herself and started to doubt herself and her worth indicates that there is going to be a twisting point in the story, and she will go back to the life she belongs to and enjoys much.

Part 3 : Inference question

Read the following text and answer the question below in full sentences

Laila is a technology reporter at the Al Khaleej Times newspaper. As part of an assignment, she accepted to be part of an ethical hacking experiment. Basically, a group of ethical hackers would try to compromise her system without her knowing how, when, and where. Laila only knew that it would happen at some point. For a whole month, the hackers did an extensive research on Laila, crawling through her Instagram and Facebook pages, Al Khaleej Times articles and even found out her date of birth from a website on family trees.

Almost two months after the assignment began, the hackers launched their attack. They pretended to be whistleblowers in control of sensitive government information and sent her an email with some of the files attached. The malware infection occurred the moment she opened the file, and the attackers got access to everything, including email address and webcam. And it wasn't even that difficult to do.

According to the text above ,what can you infer about Laila's concern about her safety when using the internet?

The text implies that Laila does not care a lot about her online safety and security. Although she is doing an important job that needs her to be so cautious with any correspondence she regularly receives, she immediately opened the link that was sent to her from unknown contact. She didn't even think for a while that it might have been sent for a malicious purpose.
