Reading Skills Check 1 (Level 7)

Paragraph 1

I think identity theft is an easy crime to commit as we have to give out our personal details all the time, for example, when filling in forms, or even shopping. This is something we all have to do but, what shocks me, is that if a thief is able to access this information, he or she can use it to commit fraud in your name. All someone needs to apply for a loan or open a credit card account in your name is your full name, address and date of birth. A thief could use counterfeit debit cards or even remove all the money from your bank account.

Paragraph 2

Online identity theft is very common nowadays but it's not as easy as it sounds. One example is hacking social media accounts. Another way in which criminals may attempt to access your personal information is through spyware, which infects your computer. Spyware may come from downloading files or software, opening email attachments or spam mail. I believe the phishing is the one that is used most often. In a typical phishing scam, phishers send out emails to trick people into providing private information which will be used for identity theft.
