Grades (10/11/12) Reading Practice – Term 1 – 2024/25

By Mr. Ahmed Abdelfattah

An Important Meeting

Anna had been preparing for this meeting with the wealthy entrepreneur for weeks. She checked all her notes and files were in order. "What could go wrong?" she thought. "You will do this!" She turned to the mirror and double checked her clothes and her make up. She knew first impressions were important. She didn't have wealth, but she could have style.

"Good afternoon, Henry," Anna said to the entrepreneur, and they sat down together. Henry was clearly a man who thought wealth was impressive. He was wearing his most expensive watch and suit jacket, and sat in a way to make sure the brand names could be seen. Anna started her pitch - her plan was to get a huge money donation from Henry for her charity.

So, imagine Anna's disappointment when Henry did not donate any money, claiming he needed to consider the company's profits. Anna had been planning this meeting for two months and this was not the result she wanted. Henry knew, though, he needed to compromise. He agreed to contact other people who could support the charity - true to his word, by the end of the day, Henry had contacted multiple sponsors. Anna also convinced Henry to attend an event she was putting on next week.

Henry did end up going to the event, even though it was on the other side of the city from his office and home. He actually knew or cared little about the charity itself - he joined the room so as to make connections with the other entrepreneurs there. However, when he watched the people come up on stage, seeing how happy they were and hearing about how much good work they were doing, a feeling stirred inside Henry. "Maybe there was more to life than wealth, business, and profits..."
