Deserts are home to many unique animals that can survive in hot, dry conditions. The camel is one of the most famous desert animals. It has a hump that stores fat, which helps it survive without food or water for days. Another animal that lives in the desert is the Fennec fox. It has very large ears and is also a desert dweller. Its ears help it hear prey from far away and keep cool in the heat. These animals have special features that help them live in the desert's harsh environment.

Fill in the blank with the correct words from the word bank.

Desert ears oasis hump	Camels features hot survive
---------------------------------	--------------------------------------

1. A camel's _____ stores fat to help it survive without food or water.

3. The Fennec fox has very large _____.
4. _____ are famous desert animals.
5. The Fennec fox lives in the _____.
6. Both camels and Fennec foxes have special _____ that help them to survive in the desert.

Ramadan is a special month in Islam. During Ramadan, Muslims fast, which means they do not eat or drink from sunrise until sunset. This helps them feel closer to Allah and reminds them to be thankful for what they have. At night, they break their fast with a meal called iftar. Ramadan is also a time for helping others, being kind, and praying. It ends with a big celebration called Eid al-Fitr, where families come together, share meals, and give gifts.

Fill in the blank with the correct words from the word bank.

Desert Iftar praying fast	Eid Al Fitr gifts sunrise Ramadan

1. During Ramadan, Muslims do not eat or drink from _____ until sunset.
2. _____ is the meal that Muslims eat to break their fast.
3. The celebration at the end of Ramadan is called _____.
4. Ramadan is a time for being kind, _____, and helping others.
5. During Ramadan helps Muslims _____.
6. Families share meals and give _____ when celebrating the end of Ramadan.

The desert is a dry and hot place, with very little rainfall. Some deserts, like the Sahara, are covered with sand dunes, while others have rocky land. During the day, the sun makes the desert very hot, but at night, it gets cool. The cactus plant with thick stems grows in the desert because it can store water. Animals such as camels, snakes, and lizards live in the desert, and they have special ways to stay cool and find food. Even though deserts may seem empty, they are full of life!

Fill in the blank with the correct words from the word bank.

Saharah snakes store sharks	cool Cactus store rainfall
--------------------------------------	-------------------------------------

1. A desert is a dry, hot place with very little _____.
2. The _____ is a desert covered with sand.
