My Amazing Family Adventure

Hi! I'm Shamma, and I want to tell you about my awesome family. We're like a team of superheroes, but without capes (well, most of the time). My family is made up of my mom, dad, little brother Hammed, and me. We might not have superpowers, but we sure know how to make life exciting!

One thing that makes my family so special is our weekend traditions. Every Saturday morning, we turn our living room into a pancake paradise. Mom flips the pancakes high in the air, and we try to catch them on our plates. It's like a breakfast circus, and it always makes us laugh.

Another cool thing about my family is our love for nature. Dad is like a walking encyclopedia about birds, and he taught me how to identify different species. Last winter, we went on a camping trip, and I saw a shooting star for the first time. It was magical, and I made a wish that our family would always be together, exploring the wonders of the world.

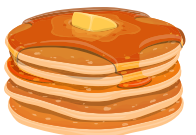

But, like any team, we have our challenges. Hammed sometimes borrows my things without asking, and Mom says I need to be more patient. I guess being a superhero in training requires teamwork and understanding.

Write your answers below:

Why does Shamma describe her family as "team of superheroes" ?

Why is your answer for the inference question is correct?

Use details from the text to support your answer.
