Part 4 : Inference question*5 Marks*Write your answer below. Use full sentences.*Read the following text and answer the question below in full sentences:*Last Summer

I have learned languages at school, but I have never used them. One day, I hope I can. My family are a traditional family. They like what they already know. They only take vacations to the local lake or visit nearby countries that speak our language. They like visiting bookshops, gift shops and clothes shops, where my mother buys luxury goods like silk dresses. However, my last vacation was really different.

My friend asked me to help him to sail his boat across the sea to Africa. The wind was strong enough that we didn't need the engine. The sky was clearing quite quickly and the sea water felt warm and clean. Where I come from, the sky is grey and brown circles appear on the ground when it rains. My home has a lot of pollution. Suddenly, the wind died. The boat stopped.

My friend said, "Let's use the boat's engine." As he was trying to start the engine, he handed me a book about it. He asked, "Have you ever studied French? Can you translate this?" French was one of my school subjects and I was excited to use it, but this book was too difficult. So, my friend couldn't fix the engine.

We couldn't move. We didn't have enough drinking water and we had no food left. We were quite quickly getting hungry and thirsty. My friend used a square of the sail to catch fish. I asked, "Have you ever cooked fish?" He said he had. I remembered the water cycle and how to get water from the air. I took some plastic and very slowly began collecting drops of water.

That night, my friend saw a light. It was getting closer really fast. A voice shouted, "I'm here to help you!"

"Did you understand anything he said?" asked my friend. I understood everything. He was speaking English, my second language! I have never been happier than when I heard that man speak.

"I think we should explore that cave," Sarah said, pointing to a narrow opening in the side of the mountain.

"But it looks dangerous," replied Ahmed. "I'm not sure if it's a good idea."

"I'm not afraid," Sarah said confidently. "We've been on many adventures before, and we're always careful. Besides, we've got the map, and it looks like the cave has something interesting inside."

Ahmed hesitated but then agreed, "Alright, but let's make sure we have enough supplies with us."

The next day, Sarah and Ahmed set off with their backpacks, filled with snacks and water. The sun was shining brightly, and the air was warm as they climbed the mountain path. After a while, they reached the cave entrance, which was hidden by bushes.

"This is it!" Sarah exclaimed, excitedly. "Let's go inside!"

They crawled through the small opening and found themselves in a cool, dark space. The walls of the cave sparkled with minerals, and they could hear the sound of dripping water echoing through the cave. Sarah took out the map again and said, "It says the treasure should be just ahead."

As they walked deeper into the cave, they suddenly heard a noise. Ahmed stopped and whispered, "Did you hear that?"

"Yes," Sarah replied, "but let's keep going." They continued through the cave, and after a few more steps, they found a small wooden chest hidden in the shadows. "Look!" Sarah said, "We've found it!"

Lina and her friends, Jamal and Rasha, had always been curious about the old lighthouse near the beach. They had heard many stories about it, but no one really knew what was inside. One afternoon, they decided to go and explore the lighthouse.

“Do you think it’s safe?” Jamal asked as they approached the tall structure.

“I think so,” Lina replied confidently. “It’s been there for years, and I’ve never heard of anyone getting hurt.”

Rasha was a bit nervous but agreed to join them. As they walked through the overgrown path towards the lighthouse, they noticed something unusual. A small map was lying on the ground, partly hidden by some leaves.

“What’s this?” Lina asked, picking up the map.

“It looks like a treasure map!” Jamal said, his eyes widening. “Maybe it will lead us to something exciting.”

Lina studied the map carefully. “It looks like it’s pointing to the top of the lighthouse. I wonder what’s up there.”

The three friends climbed the steep staircase inside the lighthouse. When they reached the top, they saw an old chest hidden behind some rocks. It looked just like the one on the map.

“Wow! This could be it,” Rasha said, excited.

They carefully opened the chest. Inside, they found a collection of old coins and a note that said, “The real treasure is the adventure.”

Part 9: Read the following text and then answer the questions below: [6 marks]

A Special Tree

“Grandfather, can I ask you about ghaf trees? My friend and I are going to write a report on it for class, but we don’t know much about it,” said Khalid.

His grandfather began to speak, “I know some interesting facts about these trees. They grow here in the Middle East, but also in Asia and Africa. Plant them, and they will easily grow. They can live for more than 120 years in the desert. It’s interesting that they grow without much water. In the past, travellers used the ghaf tree to make medicine. Farmers also used the leaves for animal food.

In the hot and dangerous desert, travellers were sometimes hurt by snakes and scorpions. When that happened, their hope was to find a ghaf tree. They could use the water from the tree to clean their cuts. Travellers could also lie down to sleep under the tree during the night if they were travelling far.

Today, people still love ghaf trees. They plant ghaf trees in hot deserts to help animals like goats and camels. The desert eagle owl lives in the ghaf and the oryx and desert fox rest near them. The wood is used to build houses and for fires. People even eat the leaves in salads. This type of salad is very special. The ghaf is so important that it is the national tree of the UAE.”

When his grandfather finished, Khalid said, “I hope to make sure more of them grow. Thank you, grandfather, I will tell my friend you helped us a lot.”

Choose the correct answer from A, B ,or C:

1-According to the text, why is the ghaf tree interesting?

- A-It was used to help sick travellers.
- B-Travellers rested under it during the day.
- C-Animals easily find food near it.

2-How are the leaves of the ghaf tree used today?

- A-People make food with them.
- B-They are burnt in fires.
- C-Animals live in them.

3-What is the text about?

- A-how to plant a ghaf tree
- B-where to find trees in the UAE
- C-the UAE's most important tree
