The Racing Family 1

The Al Marzooqi family loves exercising every day. They enjoy running, cycling and swimming together. The father told the family that they are taking part in a 10km race. The race has two parts, 5km running and then 5km cycling.

"I am so happy. It is the perfect time for us because we practised for almost six months. The waiting made me even more excited and now it's finally happening," said Hind.

The whole family started running for six days every week except Hamad. He thought that he could win, so he practised twice a day. Al Meydan's 5km run takes place in Dubai once a year. At the same time, there are other races that take place in Sharjah and Abu Dhabi. However, the family was only interested in the Al Meydan race.

On race day, Hind said, "I love running. I know I will win."

"I practised more than you during the holiday. I think I will win," said the father.

I am sure I will win, Hamad said to himself. The race started and they all ran as fast as they could. The whole family looked tired except Hamad. "I am winning! I am winning!" he said. In the end, Hamad won the race and the whole family was happy.

"The race was great!" said Hind.

"You are the best runner in the family!" Hamad's mother said to him.

"Well done, Hamad! You won, but we all ran fast," said the father.

The Racing Family 2

The family waited for 30 minutes to start the next race. "You can win the cycling race, Hind. It's only 5km. You are good at cycling and you were practising for three hours every day," said her father.

"I can't wait to start cycling!" said Hind. "The race is starting! Al Marzooqi family members are ready!"

"3, 2, 1, go!" the man shouted. Everyone started cycling.

Everyone wanted to win, so they all practised very hard. Hind was clever. She knew how she could win the race. She started slow and then at the last 1km, she cycled faster. She passed everyone and crossed the finish line. "I won!" Hind cried. When her family finished the race, they all came together and gave Hind a high-five.

"I am so happy for you. You did well, Hind! Your success is our success," Hamad said.

"We can all celebrate this win by going to Hind's favourite restaurant," said the father. The whole family was tired from the races, but happy. They went to the restaurant and celebrated the success.
