Al Hadiqa Zoo

Al Hadiqa Zoo is next to a small village and opposite a beautiful park. It is not in the city. There are big animals like lions, bears, and elephants. There are noisy animals like birds and monkeys. There are small, cute animals like rabbits and ducks. Many people like the big animals.

The zoo doesn't have a playground, but children still have fun. They can hold small animals, listen to stories and do art. The art stays at the zoo. They put it on the wall. Children don't take it back to their parents.

For lunch, you can enjoy sandwiches or pizza at the restaurant. You can also have tea or water at the cafe, but they don't sell ice cream. Buy some from the shop near the monkeys!

There are many jobs at the zoo. Vets help sick animals and clean them. Then the cook feeds them. A teacher works at the zoo too! She tells the children how to stay safe. A driver takes the children and teacher in a big bus to see the animals. He talks about what the animals eat and how they live.

Read the text and choose the correct answer:

Have you ever wondered what the UAE was like many years ago? If so, Al Jazirah Al Hamra can give you a look into the past. By the 1800s, the area was becoming a well-known pearling trade centre. It was home to over 4,000 people and dozens of fishing ships. Now, it's quite often empty so it has changed into a good place to go with visitors. On a tour, we can see everything without too many people around. When you enter the village, you will see an old car. There are houses very carefully made of wet sand and rocks with leaf roofs. There are also some other buildings. I think they were quite likely used for businesses such as a barber or even an early post office.

Another historic site I like to bring visitors to is Al Ain Oasis. I learned from tourists that it has become an attraction for bird watchers. It has thousands of date palms. Al Ain Oasis is an incredible place. When I visit, I am amazed that it was created by people because it feels like it has always been there. I prefer the calm, green atmosphere to the noise of the city. Very recently, modern facilities like cafes and gift shops have been built there. I have more requests for trips to Al Ain Oasis during October to April.

There are lots of amazing places to visit in the UAE, but these places will show you the history of the country.

Brother's Keeper

Sam loved everything about ancient Egypt and read every book he could find. He also listened to traditional Egyptian music all the time. When Sam's parents told him and his older brother that they were going to Egypt for their next holiday, he was so excited. The trip of his dreams was finally happening! 1380

The family arrived at their hotel in old Cairo. It looked like a palace made of stone. Harry complained that it had no swimming pool. Sam's brother, Harry, did not share Sam's feelings. He wanted to go somewhere with cooler weather.

His parents wanted to get some rest so Harry asked if he could explore the neighbourhood. Sam's father said, "Sure. Take your little brother with you. Be careful and watch out for him." Harry looked upset.

They went to a large outdoor market close to the hotel. Sam was amazed by small birds in cages. Harry looked on, uninterested. Sam said, "Harry, I'm hungry. Can we get something to eat?"

Harry pulled Sam away from the birds and replied, "We'll get something to eat soon. I just want to look around a bit and buy some things for my friends." While Harry was looking at items for sale, the boys heard music playing in the distance. After Harry bought his items, he turned around but didn't see Sam.

He ran back to the hotel, hoping to see his brother, but Sam wasn't there either. He yelled, "Dad, I need your help!"

His father looked at Harry and asked, "What's wrong? Where's Sam?"

Brother's Keeper

Sam loved everything about ancient Egypt and read every book he could find. He also listened to traditional Egyptian music all the time. When Sam's parents told him and his older brother that they were going to Egypt for their next holiday, he was so excited. The trip of his dreams was finally happening! 1380
