Community Connections in the Digital Age

Introduction

1. Provides background information about the topic (people disagree in this case)
2. Gets the readers' attention/interest (using questions for instance)
3. Indicates the thesis statement

How has the Internet affected our communities? This issue has been hotly debated for many years. While some argue that the Internet has created a sense of disconnection among people and their communities, others believe that it has improved communication and brought people closer together. To better understand this issue, I believe it is important to explore both views in depth.

Paragraph (1)

- The reasons it has a negative impact. (give supporting ideas)
- Use language such as "On the one hand "It is argued that..."

On the one hand, there is a growing concern that the rise of the Internet and technology has led people to spend more time indoors. With easy access to social media and entertainment platforms, people have become more isolated, leading to a lack of personal connections. As a result, some argue that people are not as close to their local community as they used to be.

Paragraph (2)

- The reasons it has a positive impact. (give supporting ideas)
- Use language such as "On the other hand...", "It is argued that..."

On the other hand, the Internet has created opportunities for people to connect with each other in their communities. Social media platforms have enabled people to share information, organize events, and discuss local issues. Besides, they have made it easier for individuals to help and support one another with ease, facilitating a culture of kindness within communities.

Conclusion

To conclude or to sum up your ideas – your opinion

In conclusion, it is evident that the Internet has both positive and negative impacts on our communities. Therefore, it's important to balance online and offline interactions to fully benefit from the digital world.

Writing a discussion Essay (Model 2)

The clothes we wear and our characters

Introduction

1. Provides background information about the topic (people disagree in this case)
2. Gets the readers' attention/interest (using questions for instance)
3. Indicates the thesis statement

How have the clothes we wear affected our characters? Many people consider that the clothes you wear can affect moods and behaviours, however, others think that garments are just wrappings that protect and cover our bodies. This essay agrees that there are some clothes that can boost one's confidence.

Paragraph (1)

- The reasons it has a negative impact. (give supporting ideas)

On the one hand, some individuals can feel empowered wearing any item of clothing. Some who are more practical may choose clothing for comfort rather than style or to fit into their job role. Many office workers for example may choose to wear comfortable clothes if they are sitting at a desk for most of the day, or wear flat shoes if they have to walk a lot. Many choose their clothes for the environment they are working in and don't need them to act in a certain way. For instance, in style magazine in 2016 released an article, which revealed that most office workers would choose to purchase clothes for comfort rather than to be in style.

Paragraph (2)

The reasons it has a positive impact. (give supporting ideas)

On the other hand, when people wear certain clothes it can boost their confidence and change their way of behaving. People with professional job titles like teachers and lawyers wear smart clothes when at work to exude an air of authority, as well as allowing their behaviour to change. This can also be said for those who wear uniforms in their work, like police officers and medical professionals, these clothes assist the people in turning into their job title and feeling like they are taking on a certain role. For example, in a study by Manchester University in 2016, they found that 90% of teachers felt they had more authority, respect from students and control when wearing smart clothes to work.

Conclusion

To conclude or to sum up
- your opinion

In conclusion, it is evident that the clothes you wear have both positive and negative impacts on our communities. I believe that we should always make ourselves look smart when necessary because this can boost confidence and can help people to be successful individuals.

2- Writing a storyThe Importance of Understanding Body Language*Introduction

1. What is the opening hook?
2. What is next?
3. Who is in this story?
4. Where is it set?
5. When do the events occur?

I had an unforgettable experience during my trip to a small town in Bulgaria. One day, I decided to try out a local restaurant for lunch. As I sat down at a table, a friendly server approached me to take my order. The only problem was that I didn't speak Bulgarian, and they didn't speak English. I was faced with a communication challenge

Main Body

The chronological sequence and flow of your narrative occur here.

- What is the central problem?
- What happens in the central action?
- How does the climax play out?

Feeling a bit lost, I pointed at a delicious-looking sandwich, hoping to enjoy a tasty meal. To my surprise, the server shook her head from side to side. I was confused. I looked around and noticed other people happily devouring sandwiches. Undeterred, I tried again and pointed at a comforting bowl of soup. Once again, the server shook her head sideways. It didn't make sense to me since I saw people nearby enjoying their soup. I started to feel a bit embarrassed.

Conclusion

- What happens in the falling action?
- What is the resolution of the problem?

Just as I was about to give up and leave, it suddenly clicked in my mind. I remembered that in Bulgaria, they use a different body language signal. Shaking the head from side to side actually meant "yes," while nodding the head up and down meant "no." I couldn't help but laugh at my own misunderstanding. Apologizing to the server, I ordered both the sandwich and the soup. It was a valuable lesson for me, reminding me of the importance of understanding and interpreting body language, even in unfamiliar places.
