Manama

describing a place

Manama is the city I admire most . It is the capital and the largest city of Bahrain with an approximate population of 157 , 000 people . It lies at the north-east of Bahrain . It became the capital of independent Bahrain in 1971. Arabic is the main language of people and Islam is the main religion . However , other languages are spoken , too and some people belong to other religions . Manama is a multicultural city where people from different nationalities and religions live peacefully side by side . It was chosen as the capital of Arab culture for the year 2012 by the Arab league. What makes Manama world famous is that it is one of the most important trading and financial centres in the middle east . It is well known for its parks , hotels , museums and high buildings . Thanks to the efforts of the king and the government , Manama has become one of the most modern cities in the world .

Manama's weather is humid and hot in summer and it is warm in winter . It is like the Gulf capitals' weather . Therefore, people from the Gulf area can visit it all the year round . Europeans and Americans can visit it in winter as it the best time for them .

When you visit Manama , you will certainly enjoy doing a lot of activities . If you are looking for quality shopping , there are big air - conditioned shopping malls . Manama's fine weather offers a lot of leisure activities whether on land or sea . You can enjoy swimming , fishing , dolphin watching and all types of water sports such as scuba diving, pearl diving, snorkelling and water skiing . If you would rather stay dry , there are golf courses, race courses , riding clubs and health clubs . In addition , you can visit historic places like the national museum . In short , Manama is a tourist city from the first class , so you will never regret visiting it .
