Part 2: READING (2x15= 30 Marks)

Read the following article about food shopping and then answer the questions below

Food shopping

1 Less than half a century ago, most people shopped for food at special stores. They went to the butcher for meat, the baker for bread, and so on. The local general store carried basic foods such as flour, sugar, and rice. Today we can buy almost everything we need in big supermarkets. There are dozens of brands of breakfast cereals, salad dressings, ice cream, and other products .

2 There have also been changes in who shops for food. At one time, women did almost all the family food shopping. In the United States, men today do about 25 percent of the shopping. But no matter where the shopping is done or who does it, the challenge of sorting through the available food choices and getting the best value for your money remains.

3 About 15 percent of an average American family's income is spent on food. Planning ahead will help to make sure that you will get the most for your money. The first step is to prepare a menu of meals for several days or even a week or two. Next, make a grocery list of foods you will need to prepare the meals. Follow this list closely when you shop. It is a good idea to avoid grocery shopping when you are hungry, otherwise, you will be attracted to buy appealing-looking items not on your grocery list.

4 Shoppers can save money by buying items on sale. Weekly sales are usually promoted in newspaper advertisements. Also, many supermarkets and food manufacturers offer discount coupons on certain products. If you use coupons, do so selectively. Coupons offer savings only when they are used to buy items that you know you will use.

Checking Comprehension:

A. Answer the following questions.

1. Who typically did the majority of the food shopping in a family in the past?

In the past, women typically did almost all of the family food shopping.

2. What percentage of an average American family's income is spent on food?

You are going to listen to a conversation between a mother and her son Kevin. Choose the right option to answer each question.

Mom: Oh, Kevin, it's so sad to see you leave. The house will be empty without you.

Kevin: But mom, don't exaggerate. It's a summer camp for only two weeks.

Mom: Yes, I know, but since your big brother left home to study in Australia, I'm always sad when you're away.

Kevin: I understand, Mom, but I want to spend a vacation with my friends. I'm 16, remember.

Mom: I understand. That's great for you. And then, you will come back all tanned.

Kevin: Yes, there are a lot of beach sports in the program.

Mom: Are your things ready? You have your sleeping bag?

Kevin: Yes, but I can't find the small camping mattress.

Mom: It's in the garage, next to the two tents. Are you sure you don't need a tent?

Kevin: No, Dylan takes his, we can sleep all three of us inside it.

Mom: And do you have any medicine? Take the cream for insect bites! In the evening, next to the sea, there are always mosquitoes.

Kevin: Ah yes, good idea! I still have room in my first aid kit.

Mom: When I was young, I went camping once a bee stung me. I really suffered...

Kevin: I will be careful.

Mom: Will you give me the phone number of Dylan, just in case.

Kevin: Ok Mum but promise me that you'll not call me every day hundred times.

Mom: No, don't worry. But, send me a little text message every day. Just to tell me that everything is fine.

Kevin: OK mum, I promise.

You are going to listen to a radio programme on teenagers' clothing style. Decide whether the statements are true or false. Put a tick in the right box.

Dear teenagers, we know that clothing style is one of your main concerns. You like to buy fashionable clothes or accessories, because the way you dress represents the way you feel and reflects your personality. In general, it is believed that during the period of teenagerhood you want above all to differentiate yourself from your parents but it is common to see you wearing their clothes, as Jade, a 15-year-old high school student who loves wearing her grandmother's dresses from the 70s and her mother's scarves. She also finds that her father's large vests are awesome, and she wears them with jeans because it gives, she says, "a super nice look." As for the 17-year old Enzo, he says he is very proud to wear a leather jacket which has belonged to his family for several generations. But if you sometimes buy your clothes in the same stores as your parents, you also have your own brands. In addition, with new technologies and easy access to fashion blogs on the Internet, you can see the style of your favorite celebrities. What surprises Marie Cabot the most, the director of a big fashion store, is your speed. Indeed, she states that young people are moving faster and faster because they are always connected and, often, they know even before the specialists, what will be the garment or the accessory that everyone will want! Finally, it is necessary to know that you buy more and more online and this is why several fashion sites on the Internet have created spaces especially for you.
