Adventure trip

It was a nice and wonderful summer day. The sun was shining and the sky was blue. A week before, my family had decided to go on a cruise adventure to Howar Islands. Therefore, we had arranged to prepare everything. We hired a boat and arranged to start early in the morning. On the big day and as soon as every thing was ready, we put our things in the car and drove to the beach where the boat was waiting.

Twenty minutes later, we arrived at the place where we supposed to meet our guide and the boat. Soon we started our trip, on the way to the islands we had our breakfast. It was very nice and delicious. We enjoyed everything. We began singing, laughing and sometimes dancing. The air was blowing gently into our faces. Things kept on going smooth and easy. It was an exciting experience. Just then, things had not gone as we expected.

The engine stopped working. The boat owner told us not to worry, it was something simple but he spent much time fixing it but in vain. We waited for a long time doing nothing and hopping that a miracle could happen. I thought that it is the end of our trip. Suddenly, a large boat past us and saw what we had. Their mechanic jumped into our boat and checked every thing. Finally, he managed to find the problem and fix it. We were very happy and thanked him a lot. We continued our trip but we were afraid that anything could happen again.

We arrived Howar Islands happily and excitedly but very tired. We spent a lovely weekend there doing lots of activities. We swam in the pools and went on a very exciting exploration around the islands and discovered lovely things. But the most exciting was being with my family away from the pressure of the city and modernization. I hope we could go there again frequently.
