Unit 9: Describing a process:

Question:

The pictures below show the process of milk and dairy production. Write an article for your school magazine describing the information shown. (Write about 150-180 words)

(Eng. 202 Final Exam 2017-2018)

The diagram below shows the process of milk production

The pictures show the process of milk production from the stage of cows grazing to the stage of delivering the packed milk to customers.

The First step of the process involves cows which are sent to grass fields. After the stage of grazing, cows will produce milk twice a day thanks to the use of a special milking machine. Raw milk from cows is then stored in refrigeration facilities to ensure that its best quality is maintained. A milk tanker is then used to deliver stored milk to Dairy on a daily basis.

The Dairy is where industrial and manufacturing techniques are required to create finished milk. After this step, finished milk will be delivered in two ways. It can be processed one more time to produce cheese, cream and butter

Finally, processed milk from the dairy will be automatically pasteurized and packed in an assembly line. This stage is followed by the delivery of packed milk to supermarkets and shops where customers normally purchase their milk.

Making a motorbike

Making a motorbike is a long and difficult process. There is a total of 10 stages in the process of making motorbikes beginning with designing the product and ending with producing it in large numbers in factories.

The first stage of making a motorbike is designing the new product. After that, a prototype is built. Then, this prototype is tested to discover any problems with it. Following this, we solve all the problems with the model. Next, a small number of motorbikes is produced. These motorbikes are also put under experiment to discover and problems. When they are carefully checked, a governmental agency checks the new product. Finally, a certificate of production is issued. Therefore, factories start producing this motorbike in large numbers.

In the end, the final product is transported and delivered to the shops to be purchased by customers all over the world. Overall, the process of making motorbikes is so difficult, but it is profitable.

Unit 11: Formal report

A report on Children's Festival

Introduction:

Overall, the Children's festival was highly successful, attracting many people. The weather was fantastic, although it rained heavily for some time. Most of the performers were excellent and well received by the public.

b. Audiences:

People attending were mainly families and friends. However, there were people of all ages, and a large number from the various ethnic groups in our community. The shows were all exciting and interesting.

c. Performers

The majority were comedians and children's entertainers, but there was a wide variety of acts from over 20 countries. Almost all of the performers started and finished their acts on time.

d. Refreshments:

There were many outlets offering hot and cold food. On the whole, people were satisfied with the quality of the food and service. However, some people complained that the queues were too long.

e. Conclusion:

The festival gave greater pleasure to a large number of people and it brought together the different cultural communities within our city. In general, the sponsors were very pleased with the organization of the festival. Most of them wanted to participate in the next year's festival.

1. Recommendation

- Ways of reducing crowds at the most popular events should be considered.
- More signs need to be provided.
- A wider variety of food should be offered.
- Special access for mothers with young children could be arranged.
- It is vital to hire more security staff.
- We must start to advertise the event much earlier.

Unit 12: cause and effect essay

Introduction:

There have been many studies of... (The issue)... and how to deal with it. However, writers often have different definitions of the term. In general, ----- can be defined as a state where/ when _____. This essay aims to highlight the main causes of ... (The issue).... and their effects. If these can be identified, efforts to treat it will be more effective.

Firstly, it can be argued that the most important reason for (the topic) is _____. We can never ignore that. As a result, _____. Also, _____. However, _____. If there is/ are _____, the result is _____. It is a turning cycle that ends in (The issue)

A second significant reason for ...(the issue)....is _____ No one can deny this fact. So, _____. Without _____, it would be impossible for..... to _____, therefore they fall into the trap

Finally, the third main cause of ... (The issue) is _____. This is a very clear negative point. Because of this, _____ consequently, _____. Studies have shown that _____.

Overall, I think it is necessary to do more research to be aware of all factors related to ----- . Moreover, if we need to treat that issue, we have to consider it well with all its sides. We should concentrate on _____ and _____ as those are the main steps to ----- . Since.....(The issue)... is human touching, it is therefore essential to focus on the human causes.

Cause and effect Academic Essay about Divorce

There have been many studies recently about divorce and how to reduce it. However, writers have different definitions of the term. This essay focuses on divorce which can be defined as any formal separation of husband and wife. This essay outlines three main causes of divorce and their effects.

It can be argued that the most important reason for divorce is early marriage. Now let's see what bad effects this has. As a result, people who get married at an early age aren't mature enough to run that marriage. We can never ignore; young couples are sometime irresponsible. So, they may think only about their personal needs and not their family.

A second reason for divorce is family problems. This is a very clear negative point because parents fighting can make kids fight. This has many effects. First, it leads kids to misbehave and shout all the time. We can never ignore that, problems have bad effects on all the family members because they can cause depression.

The third main cause for divorce is financial problems. No one can deny this fact. Because of this, a lot of marriages collapse as many people think that money brings happiness. However, greedy or mean husbands or wives will do anything for money like stealing or even killing.

Overall, I think it is necessary to do more research to be aware of all factors related to divorce. Moreover, if we need to treat that issue, we have to consider it well with all its sides. We should concentrate on spending salaries wisely and finding other resources to support their family as those are the main steps to solve this problem. Since divorce is human touching, it is therefore essential to focus on the human causes.
