الحياة في المدينة أفضل من الحياة في الريف

Life in the city is better than life in the Countryside

A lot of people decide to move to the city nowadays. They think that there are a lot of advantages to living in the city. What makes think so? This essay discusses in details my opinion on this issue.

People who are with living in the city think that in the city there is a big Offer on how to spend free time. There are a lot of theatres, concerts, and other ways of entertainment. There is always a lot to do and visit and in various shopping centers you can buy whatever you want. Another advantage for living in the city is that there are a lot of working places. Many big companies have their locations in the cities, so it is much easier to find a job in a big city. Also, the public transport is developed quite well in the city, and commuting to work is not a problem. In addition, it is strongly felt that although life in a big city is quite expensive, you don't have to be worried when you are sick because there you can find good doctors for you. Some people like the slow pace of life in a countryside. But I think that you can living in the city is especially good for the young who like to enjoy new things and want to have good education, which is very difficult to find in a countryside.

To sum up, living in a big city has many advantages. However, you have to do your best to overcome all the difficulties such as hard competition in workplace or pollution.

Students have better education in private Schools

When a parent is getting their child ready to attend school, it can be a tough time for the both of them. The decision of what type of School is right for them and their child. There are several types of schools to choose from, two of them are private school and public Schools. So which one is better? In this essay, I will discuss my opinion about this topic.

There are many advantages to sending children to private schools. For example, classes in private schools are not crowded so the teacher can pay attention to all needs. In addition to providing well-equipped classrooms and science labs, students are given chances to develop their characters through interesting school activities. However, there are many things that parents should consider about private Schools. First of all, the interest in those schools is on English more than Arabic. Parents have to pay monthly or yearly expensive tuition fees, purchase their child's books, and buy the school supplies that the child will need. Also, students are exposed to more foreign cultures which might not be suitable to our Islamic culture. Another disadvantage to private schools is that they can refuse some students according to the entering test.

In conclusion, I think there is no general conclusion that can be made to cover all situations. Every student has his needs and it is up to the parent to make the right decision for their child.

My First Day in the Secondary School

Do you remember your first day in the secondary? Well, I remember I was waiting all the summer to enter my new school. I felt excited and at the same time I was very nervous because it was my first day and I didn't know any person. My first day in secondary was good.

I didn't know how to get to my classroom. I was lost and I had to ask a teacher about the building where I was going to take classes. This teacher was very nice and told me the right direction, I walked to the building, and when I arrived I saw some people and I felt strange.

I approached to one girl and asked for the classroom, we discovered that we were in the same group so I felt less nervous. I introduced myself and she also did, her name was Layla. We went in the classroom and the time to start classes began.

When we began our classes, all our classmates were quiet, nobody talked. The teacher arrived early. She started the class and after that we introduced ourselves. Then I saw my other classmates and I looked at two girls they were Zahra and Fatima. I introduced myself, then they did the same and we began to know more about each other, like where we were from or what we did. After that, we spent the rest of the day together until we had to go home.

I am always going to remember that day because I had the opportunity to meet more people and the most important I met my best friends. Finally, I think that it is natural that on the first day we feel nervous, but things always have a happy ending, that's why I say that my first day in the secondary was very good.
