14

Becky

I always buy many things online such as bags, clothes and shoes and I don't find it difficult at all. You can shop around and find the best offers. It's so quick to move from one site to the next. I know that some people get nervous about using credit cards online but I've never had any problems. I can't stand it when sites try to promote other products for me to buy. I've got my own mind, you know. Even if I like what they have to offer, I refuse to buy it because it annoys me. Also, some sites don't mention how much the delivery will cost. That can lead to buying something that is not worth what you pay for.

Eric

I shop online sometimes for things like DVDs, but I'd rather buy other things like clothes and shoes from shops. I think buying things online just isn't practical. I mean you can't try on anything to see if it fits, so I think there's no point. So, I usually go to a department store which is close to my house. I enjoy window shopping a lot, and if I'm feeling down, a good shopping spree always makes me feel better. Also, my cousin has her own clothes shop with lots of handmade clothes, so I ought to help her out by buying stuff from there every now and then.

Natasha

I have a huge family and I buy all my gifts for people online. It's so useful because it's so easy to browse. There is a wide variety of things to buy and most gift sites wrap items too. I know that you have to pay for delivery, but things are usually cheaper online and some sites even suggest ideas about what you might like to buy. Most of these aren't really worth it, but it's a good way to learn what the site offers. Also, I live quite a long way away from any good shops so it's difficult for me to go on shopping trips. I'm a little worried about using my credit card a lot, but what can I do?

Read the previous passage again. Then, fill in the table. (1x8=8)
