Dialogue.

- Q) Where are you from? / Where do you come from?
- Q) When did you arrive?

A

4) to destroy the instruments of torture and because Defarge wanted to see the secret cell "one Hundred and Five, North Tower".

4- Charles Darnay decided to go to Paris to clear his name and to help the poor servant.

Poetry

Paraphrase

The poet asks the wind to blow hard. He says that the cold strong biting wind is much kinder than ungrateful friends. He adds that although the wind blows very hard and it is unseen yet it is not as sharp as man's teeth. He says that most friendship is false and deceiving and loving is mere foolishness. The poet invites people to abandon their false life and unfaithful friends and come back to nature where life is so simple and everything is true and pleasant.

☐ Personification. The poet gives the (wind) a human character. He personified the wind as a person who has "tooth" and "breath". He uses the wind as a contrast to an aspect of human, therefore he needs to personify it.

to take off his clothes and put on Sidney's. He also asked him to shake his hair loose and give him his hair ribbon. When Charles told Sydney Carton that it was madness and no body could escape from the prison. Sidney replied that it was a request from Lucie and asked him to sit and write some words to Lucie.

1) In 1789 Mr Lorry said that the Paris customers of Tellson's are so nervous that they sent their money to London. On July 1789 the first sound of Revolution was heard in Saint Antoine. The Jacques and the people of Saint Antoine were gathering arming themselves with every kind of weapons. The people were tired of being poor and hungry.

2) He had come to congratulate them. He apologized to Charles for being rude and drunken the night of the trial. He told Darnay that he wished they might be friends. Then he asked permission to visit the family occasionally and be considered their friends.

3) Because it represented injustice and oppression. They attacked it to free the prisoners who were imprisoned without accusation or trial, to destroy the records which had the names of the prisoners, to destroy the

What are you going to do?

(5) How long will you stay?

The Novel

(1) "All is lost"

Miss Pross said these words to Mr Lorry when Dr Manette had lost his mind after his daughter's wedding. The doctor remembered nothing about his present. Miss Pross was troubled and didn't know what to do or what to say to Lucie.

(2) "Evermonde, you have been sentenced..."

The officer told Charles Darnay. The officer asked Defarge to take Charles to the prison La Force. Charles tried to defend himself but the officer told him that emigrants have no right.

(3) This is madness

Charles Darnay to Sydney Carton
When Carton entered the cell, asked Charles
