Dear Eman,

Hello my friend. How are you ? I know that you are doing a project about Omani Crafts. Oman has a lot of traditional crafts. In this e-mail, I will tell you about famous crafts in my country.

Oman is famous of jewelries. They are made of silver and gold. Omani women wear them every day and in special days like Eids and weddings. They wear rings, necklaces, bracelets, earrings and anklets. Omani men wear khanjer. It is made of silver. It is very popular in Oman.

The second example of Omani crafts are potteries. The potteries are made of clay. The Omani people made them by special machine. Then, they dry them under the sun until they become hard. The Omani people use potteries in their life like bowls, cups, vases and gifts.

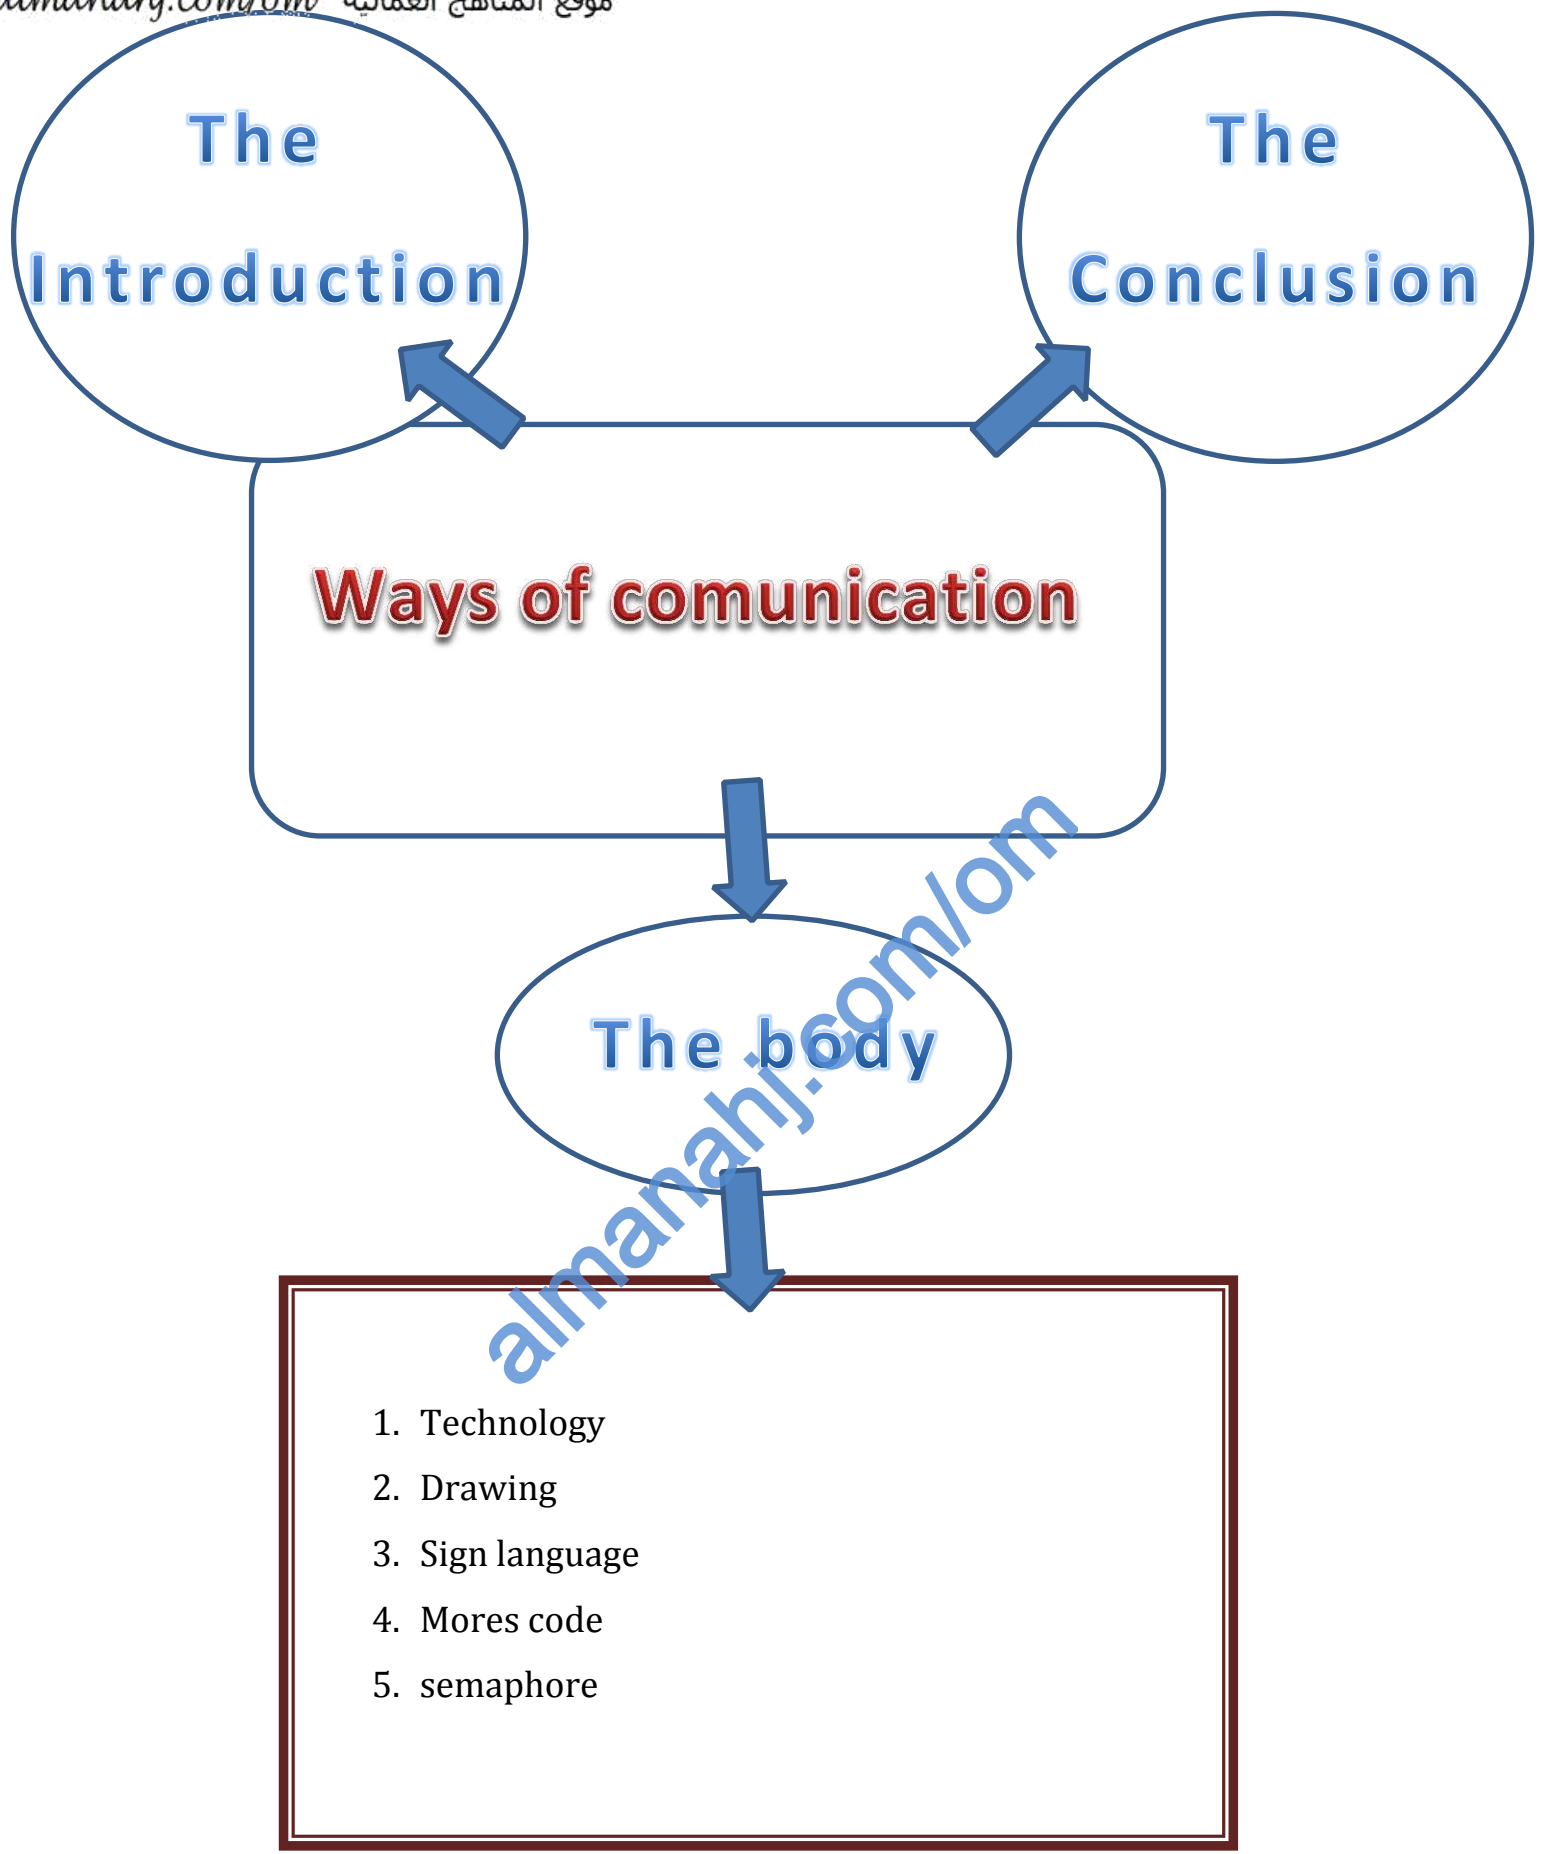

The third example of Omani crafts are traditional clothes. The Omani women wear dresses, trousers and scarfs. They are decorated with nice patterns. The Omani men wear dishdashas and caps. They wear these clothes in their daily life. They are made of wool and cotton.

The fourth example of Omani crafts are palm branches crafts. The Omani people use palm trees to make different crafts. There are a lot of examples of palm branches crafts, such as, bowls, mats, bags ...etc. they made them by their hands, so they are called handicrafts.

These are some examples of Omani crafts. I hope you get benefit from it to complete your project. Please write to me soon.

See you

Raida

Dear Amera,

Hi my friend. Thanks for your e-mail. The Communication is very important in our life . In this e-mail, I will tell you about the ways of communication and some examples of them.

People can communicate with each other by using technology. They can communicate by using phones programs like whatsapp, twitter, instagram, face book. Sometimes they can connect with each other by using T.V, Radio, computers and internet. The new technology makes the world closer.

Also, the people can communicate by drawing. Some people use drawing to tell stories. Others use pictures to describe their feelings. The children use drawing to tell adults about their ideas and dreams.

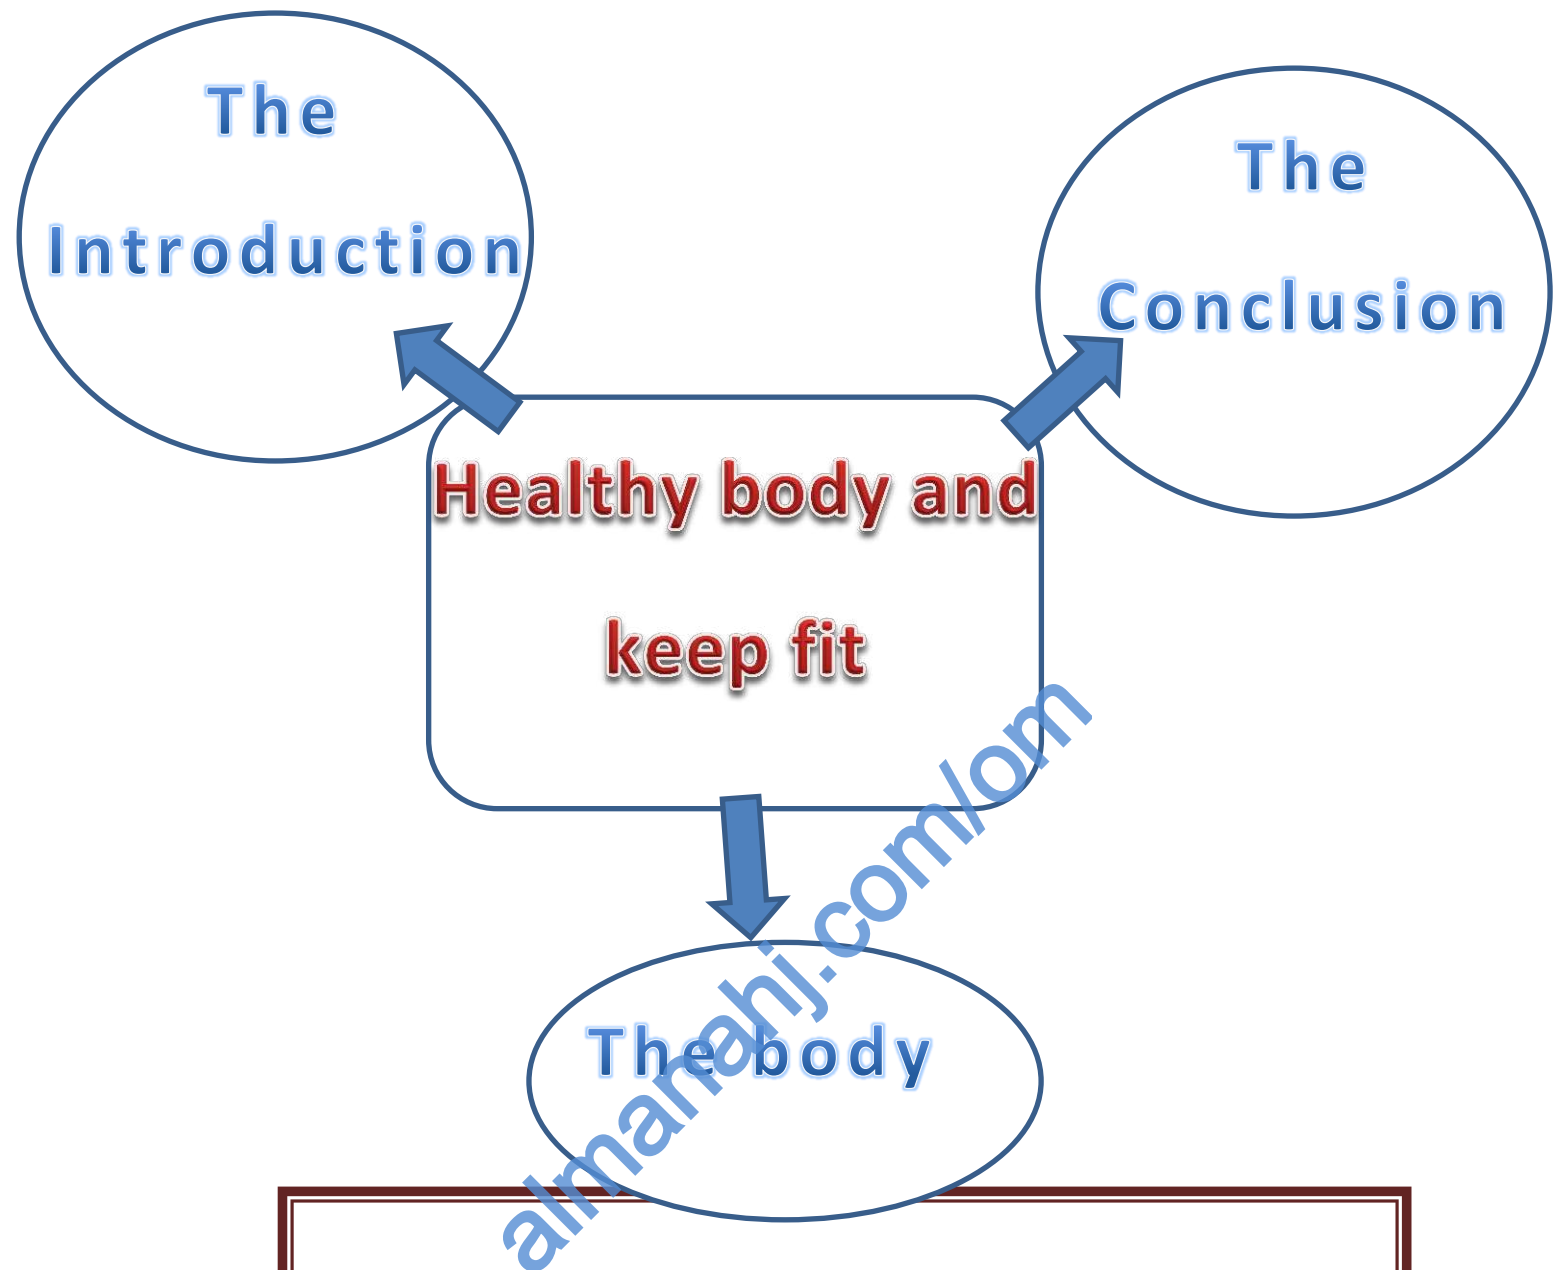

Moreover, some people use sign language. People who find it difficult to hear and speak use their hands and fingers to communicate. It helps deaf people to communicate to others. It helps people to learn and study like normal students. Every country has a different sign language.

There are other ways of communications, such as, Morse code and semaphore . Morse code means people send electronic messages using a special machine by using dots and dashes to represent the letters. Semaphore means that people send messages by holding two flags in the air in different positions.

At the end, we should communicate with each other to make our life easy. Please, don't forget to write to me soon.

Bye

Raida

The health is very important and we should look after it . we should eat healthy food ,such as, fruit, vegetables, carbohydrates, vitamins, cereals and dairy products. Every day, you should walk at least 30 min. You should drink a lot of water. Your body should have stamina and be strong and supple to be healthy. Stamina means to walk or do sport for a long time. Supple means to bend, stretch or twist your body easily. Strong means to push or hold up heavy things. If you do a lot of sport, you will live more years than the people who don't do sport.
