Ahmed and Ali are best friends who love to play football. Every Friday after school, they go to the football field to play together. They enjoy playing outside because the field is large, open, and full of energy. Ahmed is quick on his feet and likes to score goals, while Ali is great at defending and always stays calm under pressure.

The sound of their feet running on the grass and the ball being kicked echoes in the field as they play. They want to become better players, that is why they practice everyday. Ahmed and Ali always support each other and cheer whenever one of them makes a good play. For them, playing football is not just about winning; it's a time to have fun and strengthen their friendship. They always look forward to Fridays, excited to practice and enjoy their game together.
