Directions: In this part of the test, you will read two passages then answer questions based on each. Read the following, and then answer the questions.

1. Hello Salem. Don't tell anyone about Mike: my tiger. However, let me tell you a few facts about tigers. Tigers are the third largest land carnivores. Tigers have many qualities. Not only they are large, but they are also fast and so beautiful. Tigers can sprint as fast as 40 miles per hour for short distances and leap as far as 30 feet horizontally. You might not think that such large, fast, and ferocious creatures need help to survive, but they do.

2. Despite all the tiger's strengths, the future of the species is uncertain. Tigers face a very high risk of extinction. It is estimated that at the start of the 20th century, there were over 100,000 tigers living in the wild. By the turn of the century, the number of tigers outside of captivity decreased to just over 3,000. Those captive tigers need to be trained to possess the necessary skills of living in the wild to be set free afterwards.

3. Interestingly, the most serious threats that tigers face come from humans. Humans have done considerable damage to the world's tiger population through hunting, but perhaps more damage has been caused through the destruction of habitat. Tigers are hunted for many reasons. People have long valued the famous striped skins. Though trading tiger skins is now illegal, they are worth around $10,000 on the black-market. Tigers have also been hunted as game. In other words, people hunt tigers solely for the thrill and achievement of killing them.

4. Though tiger population faces many threats, there have been some successes in conservation and preservation efforts. There are some signs that show that humans are interested in protecting tigers. Organizing Campaigns, funding researches and establishing reserves are some instances. For example, Save China's Tigers, an organization working to restore the wild tiger population, successfully rewilded a small number of South China tigers, 35. It is not a question of having food only. Tigers need a new home. Now, their number has become 130.

5. I personally want to contribute in these efforts. First, I will donate to Sava China's Tigers, Second, I will volunteer for two months and I will let mike go back to his habitat although this isn't really easy for me

Read the following paragraph, and then answer questions:

1 I don't have a horse of my own; however, they are my only love. Horses are very expensive both to buy and to own. You have to pay for their food, equipment, insurance, and health care.

2 I'm very lucky to live near a horse stable. I go there at the weekends sometimes and watch the trainers exercising the horses. All of the horses need a lot of exercise in order to stay healthy, no matter what kind of riding they are used for. Most of the horses are used for trail riding, which I think is the easiest and the most fun.

3 One of the trainers at the horse farm is named John. John used to ride horses in competitions, but now, he takes care of the horses, and he works as a riding instructor, teaching some of the owners to be better riders so that they can enter competitions with their horses. John lets me help him groom the horses and tells me a lot about them. One reason I really like horses is that they have as much personality as people do. They can't talk, but they can tell you how they are feeling with their body language. For example, if their ears are put forward, and their tails are relaxed, it means they are happy.

4 My favorite horse at the stable is a mare named Vrana. She is older than a lot of the other horses, and she is the sweetest! Sometimes I help John tack her up before she exercises. We only use a simple bridle and a saddle when we tack up the horses. I've ridden Vrana a few times when she exercises. First, she walks around the ring, then she trots, and then she canters. Vrana always knows what to do. I just pinch my knees in a tiny bit, and it's like she can read my mind! Even though Vrana is a very safe horse, of course I always wear a helmet when I ride her.

5 I would love to have a job at the stable! John says that maybe, when I get a little older, I could get that job. Then, I could be around horses all the time. I'm trying to learn as much about horses as I can now, so that I'll be really qualified. In addition to learning, I keep going to the stable to practically learn about horses from John.
