Reading Comprehension:

Directions: Read the passage and answer the questions.

In 2012, California USA, a boy called Ahmed lived in a small house of three floors with his parents and two siblings. He was in grade five. He liked his school, but he didn't enjoy science class.

One day, his science teacher asked the students to think of a way to throw an egg from the roof of their school without breaking it.

Ahmed didn't ask anyone to help him. He put his egg in some water , he found out that eggs float in water. He put a big plastic bowl of water in the park and threw his egg from the third floor , but the egg broke in water. He got angry at first, then he put his egg in a plastic bag full of flour and threw it in water. He was so excited because his egg was safe and sound.

His family was so proud of him because got full mark in science.
