Read the passage, then answer the questions below :-

(1) People use natural resources more, hunt more than they need and that is why lots of species are in danger. Indian tigers and African elephants are among them. People have hunted and killed many of them.

(2) Tigers and elephants are often dangerous animals. Tigers can kill cows, sheep and other domestic animals and sometimes they can also kill men, and they kill in order to protect themselves. Unfortunately, there is a category of people who are ready to kill these animals just for fun or their beautiful parts of the body.

(3) The results are very sad you know. There are few Indian tigers on the Earth nowadays. Many of them are usually old sick animals and they don't hunt people but hide from them in deep dark forests. Or they used to hide earlier, because the trees also have been cut.

(4) We can ask the same question about African elephants. They are wonderful animals. They can help, entertain people. Last century Africa was full of elephants and nowadays you can't see them very often. I think that those animals should be protected because they have no clear future at all.

(1) Exercise is very important for your health. Daily exercise helps you keep fit and healthy. It makes your body strong and active, too. People who do daily exercise are usually happier than those who don't. They also have better sleep habits and do their activities without any stress. Walking is the best type of exercise of all time because it provides good movement to body parts and it doesn't need expensive equipment.

(2) Studies show that exercise brings happiness in people's lives. For example, students feel happier in the playground than in the classroom. Students can spend wonderful time with their friends at school doing useful exercise together. It is a good chance for them to move their bodies and stay active all day.

(3) Studies also show that daily exercise is good for the mind. Exercise makes your memory stronger which helps you do better at exams and get excellent grades at school. It keeps your mind smart, sharp and focussed. In addition, exercise teaches you great values like respecting oneself and others around you. In my opinion, exercise can be a simple way to turn a good experience into a great one and share it with others.
