✚ Read the following passages and answer the questions below (022) . . .

- Text 1: Scott

I love technology. When there is a new kind of tablet computer or a new smartphone in the shops, I have to buy it because I don't want to be isolated and have no communication with others.

A lot of people my age don't do that- I am 76. I never throw them away, but I keep them in my home. I even keep the old ones that I don't use. I only use one mobile, one tablet and one desktop computer. I use them a lot. I download films and music and I use social networking sites a lot. It's a good way to keep in touch with old friends. And it has helped me to make a lot of new friends, too.

- Text 2: Gerry

I live in Toronto, but my son and his kids live in New Zealand. I go there or they come to visit me every year. But we speak most days; video chat helps us to stay in touch. I think the kids –my grandchildren- like speaking to me on the screen. They are always very chatty and sociable. But when we meet in Toronto or in New Zealand, they are shy. When I was young, my friends and I met and talked. Now, young people go online. The world is changing.

- Text 3: Delvin

I love people and I hate computers. My only phone is a landline. Landline phones were OK for my parents and my grandparents, and they are OK for me! I like to meet my friends, neighbours and family. When I want to talk to someone, I go to their home. If they are in, we have a chat. If they are not there, I come back home. I don't mind, I like walking. My sons and my grandchildren are always saying, "come on, you have to get a computer, you have to get a mobile. Then, you can do a video chat!" Well, I don't want to use mobiles and computers and smart phones and the internet! I am happy as I am.

✚ Read the following passage and answer the questions below (021) . . .

- 1) Most of us find their lives becoming a little dull and boring. Boredom can attack our days. That's why we need to search for something more interesting every now and then. When we are old, every one of us hopes to look back on their lives and talk about how exciting they were. Change is the spice of life; it improves our experience of it and makes it more enjoyable. Unfortunately, we all have strict timetables that leave us no chance for adventure.
- 2) Here are some ways to make our life more interesting. Before anything, greet the dawn and watch the sun rise. Prepare for this moment by picking out a standing point and deciding when the sky in your area will be clear enough to welcome another beautiful day. Bring a friend along. As the sun rises, remind yourself of all the possibilities that a new day holds.
- 3) Take a different pathway. Give yourself some extra time to change your routine travels to work or school. Try side streets instead of the freeway. Discover new places and new people and take a mini road trip. Explore new scenes right around the corner. Search the web for nearby points of interest. You don't have to travel far for a healthy change.
- 4) Tired of listening to the same old radio programs? Risk it and try new ones. Watching TV is a passive activity. Turn off your TV and make something interesting. Why not actively search out your news and entertainment elsewhere? Read a newspaper; enjoy a play at a nearby theatre. Explore crafts of making simple things of recyclable materials or try reconnecting with a skill you already have like painting for example. Excitement was never expensive, tiring or time consuming.

- 1- In paragraph (2), how should the sky be to watch sunrise? (021)

- 10- In paragraph (4), what should be done when we are tired of old radio programs?

- 11- In paragraph (4), what is special about excitement? (021)

✚ Read the following passage and answer the questions below (017) . . .

1) The earliest man, the caveman, only worked to fulfil his basic needs; those of food, shelter and clothing. Thus, the cave man was a hunter, trapper of animals and fisherman, while his wife, to give him a hand, gathered berries, fruits, leaves, insects and dug for edible roots.

2) Simple tools were the only sort that he made use of for hunting, cleaning his kill or preparing his meal. He had spears and arrows and a cutting instrument. His shelter was sometimes built on a tree; a basic building with a roof of leaves and bark or leaves and branches for walls which was almost like a nest. At other times, he lived in a cave. It was a very dangerous lifestyle, never knowing when he would catch or kill his next meal and being at the mercy of weather and wild beasts. Yet, man survived. He developed from the hunter to the nomadic shepherd who wandered from place to place in search of grass and other vegetation for his herds.

3) The caveman's life became more stable when he became a farmer, planting his own edible crops. People chose the place with the most rich soil and easy-to-get water, built their homes there and planted the land. It was a safer life. Yet, they were still at the mercy of the crazes of weather, drought, flood and hurricanes.

- 1- What is the passage MAINLY about? (017)
 - A) oldest jobs
 - B) first buildings
 - C) earliest humans
 - D) healthiest foods
- 2- In paragraph (1), why did the caveman work? (017)

- 10- In paragraph (3), which place did people choose to live?

- 11- In paragraph (3), what were the dangers of the caveman’s life? (017)
(Mention TWO at least)

✚ Read the following passage and answer the questions below (016) . . .

(1) Once upon a time, in a small village, there was an empty story book. The book looked great, with an exciting cover, but all its pages were blank. In the library, children and grown-ups pick up the book with hope, but finding no stories inside, they would throw the book aside.

Not far from there, a lovely inkwell had been full of ink for years. His owner had forgotten about it, and left it away in some corner. The inkwell and the storybook hated their bad luck, and so they spent their days in sadness. It was mere luck that one time when the book was thrown away, he landed next to the inkwell. For days and days, the two of them had exchanged stories about their bad luck.

They would have gone on for years if a beautiful swan feather had not floated down and landed next to them. Having fallen from her swan, the feather felt lonely and left for the first time in her life. (2) Swans have long necks and they normally eat fish. The feather, the book and the inkwell cried and cried. However, unlike her recently-founded friends, she decided to improve the situation. She dried her tears, and left her complaints behind. The feather clearly saw how the three of them, working together, could achieve a lot more than just "sorrow".

(3) She persuaded her friends to write a story. The story book opened up his best pages, the inkwell didn't spill even a drop, and the feather added great cleverness and beauty to the writing. (4) Together, they managed to write a lovely story. The story was about three friends who helped each other to improve their lives. Every night from then on, the three artists; feather, inkwell and storybook, got together and wrote a new story. They felt so happy and proud because they managed to improve their luck, thanks to their teamwork.

- 1- What is THE MAIN IDEA of the passage? (016)
 - A) saving ink
 - B) teamwork
 - C) lives of wild swans
 - D) children and grown-ups
- 2- Which things gathered together to write lovely stories? (016)
 - A) only the inkwell
 - B) just the storybook
 - C) nothing but the swan and the feather
 - D) the storybook, the inkwell and the feather
- 3- Which of the underlined sentences is unimportant and should be deleted? (016)
 - A) sentence 1
 - B) sentence 2
 - C) sentence 3
 - D) sentence 4
- 4- Why would children and grown-ups throw the book aside? (016)
 - A) It was not new.
 - B) It had no cover.

 - A) The inkwell was empty of ink for years.
 - B) The storybook was blank with no stories.
 - C) The storybook was in a library in a small village.
 - D) Every night the three artists got together and wrote a lovely story.
- 7- Which bird did the feather come from?

- 8- What would the storybook and the inkwell have done without the feather?

- 9- What was the feather's role in writing the stories?

- 10- What was the main idea of the story they wrote?

- 11- How did the three artists feel at the end of the story? (016)

✚ Read the following passage and answer the questions below (016) . . .

1) Camels are mammals with long legs, big lips and a humped back. There are two types of camels: Dromedary camels, which have one hump, and Bactrian camels, which have two humps. They have a third clear eyelid that protects their eyes from blowing sand. Two rows of long lashes also protect their eyes. Sand up the nose can be a problem, but not for camels. They can shut their nostrils during sand storms.

2) A Bactrian camel, according to San Diego Zoo, grows to a shoulder height of 1.8 meters and a body length of 3 meters. They normally weigh 600 to 1000 kilograms when they are fully grown. Dromedary camels get up to about 2 meters tall at the shoulder and weigh 400 to 600 kilograms. Because food is usually very little where camels live, camels are not picky about what they eat; they eat almost any plant they find. Their thick lips allow them to eat things that most other animals cannot, such as thorny plants.

3) Camels can drink 113 liters of water in just 13 minutes. Their bodies re-hydrate faster than any other mammal. When there is little food and water, the camel's hump fat releases water; 9.3 grams of fat release 1.13 grams of water, according to research by Singapore University. After a pregnancy of 12 to 14 months, a mother camel will find a private spot to have her young. The newborn is able to walk within 30 minutes, though the two will not rejoin the herd until around two weeks later.

4) Camels become fully mature when they are 7 years old. Though many people think that camels only live in hot climates, they do well in temperature ranges from minus 29 degrees to 49 degrees. Camels are very social and like to greet each other by blowing air in each other's faces.

- 1- What is the text MAINLY about? (016)
 - A) camels
 - B) mammals
 - C) different deserts
 - D) climate in Singapore

- 2- In paragraph (1), what is the meaning to the underlined word “protect”? (016)
 - A) add

 - C) save
 - D) burn

- 3- In paragraph (1), how many types of camels are there?
 - A) just a few
 - B) tens of types
 - C) only one type
 - D) Dromedary and Bactrian

- 4- In paragraph (3), how much water can a camel drink in 13 minutes? (016)
 - A) 3 liters
 - B) 49 liters
 - C) 113 liters
 - D) 400 liters

- 5- In paragraph (4), how do camels greet each other? (016)
 - A) They give each other a baby.
 - B) They store water in their fats.
 - C) They blow air in each other’s face.
 - D) They are picky about what they eat.

- 6- In paragraph (2), how long is the Bactrian camel’s body?

- 7- In paragraph (2), what do the thick lips allow camels to do?

- 8- In paragraph (2), why are camels not picky about what they eat?

- 9- In paragraph (3), how long does it take to give birth to a newborn camel?

- 10- In paragraph (3), how long does it take the newborn camel to rejoin the herd? (016)

- 11- In paragraph (4), when do camels become fully mature?
