1 Are You Here on Vacation?

Writing Skills

A. Check (✓) the phrase that is more polite.

1. ☒ a. Can I help you, sir?

2. ☐ a. I want to make a reservation.

3. ☐ a. Tell me where the restaurant is.

4. ☒ a. May I have your credit card?

5. ☐ a. Say that again.

☐ b. What do you want?

☒ b. I would like to make a reservation.

☒ b. Excuse me. Where is the restaurant?

☐ b. Give me your credit card.

☒ b. Could you repeat that, please?

Writing Corner

In formal situations, such as at a hotel, use polite language to make requests.

1. Would like is a polite form of want.

I want to make a reservation.

I'd like to make a reservation.

Do you want breakfast?

Would you like breakfast?

2. Use Can / Could / May to politely ask a question.

Spell your last name.

Could you spell your last name?

Give me your passport.

May I see your passport, please?

In formal situations, such as at a hotel, use polite language to make requests.

1. Would like is a polite form of want.

I want to make a reservation. → I'd like to make a reservation.

Do you want breakfast? → Would you like breakfast?

2. Use Can / Could / May to politely ask a question.

Spell your last name. → Could you spell your last name?

Give me your passport. → May I see your passport, please?

more polite

😊 would like means want

is commonly used in both formal situations and in everyday conversation.

Read the examples in 1. 'd is the contraction of would.

For example:

1. I want a single room.

2. I want to stay for three nights.

3. Do you want some coffee?

4. What do you want?

1. I would like a single room.

2. I 'd like to stay for three nights.

3. Would you like some coffee?

4. What would you like?

the pairs of requests in 2.

the first sentence is in the imperative and the polite request is a question.

In questions, the modal verbs Can, Could, and May come before the subject.

Find polite requests in the conversation on page 6.

For example: Can I help you? Please fill in this form. May I have your credit card, please? Oh, excuse me. Where can I find out about city tours?

9 Writing

You should not answer the question.
Instead, you should write what kind of information each question requests.

work in pairs

B. Read the questions. Decide what information is being asked for and write it in the chart.

Question	Information
1. What is your name, please?	first and last name/name of guest
2. Could you spell your last name?
3. What is your address and telephone number?	address and telephone number
4. What day are you arriving?	arrival date
5. How long (many days) are you staying?	length of stay
6. How many guests is the room for?	number of guests
7. May I have your passport, please?	passport/identification
8. How are you paying for the room?	method of payment (credit card/cash)

- C. Create a hotel or hostel registration form. Use ideas from the chart, and add any other information you think is important. Give your hotel a name and design a logo. Then, with a partner, practice asking for information to fill in your registration form.

Write the types of information usually included on a registration form for a hotel or hostel.

Make your own form

Design a hotel name and logo at the top of the form. You should include information that is on the board, as well as additional information you can think of.

first and last name/name of guest
