Department Store Robbed!

One night, in Germany, three men robbed a department store. Cameras showed three men with masks over their faces robbing the store and getting away. The men stole jewelry that was worth $6.8 million. The police didn't know who the men were until they found a drop of sweat, which contained DNA. Scientists tested the DNA and, amazingly, they found two matches-identical twins named Hans and Franz. The police knew that one of the twins had robbed the store, but they didn't know which one. They questioned both of them, but each twin said that he did not rob the store. Finally, the police had to let both twins go. They were not able to find out which one was the robber. Now, all the police can do is watch both twins and hope that one of them leads them to the stolen jewelry.

Why do we have speed limits?

Most roads in most countries have a speed limit. When driving on these roads, drivers must obey the speed limit. In the U.S., the speed limit on most highways is 65 miles (105 kilometers) per hour. In Europe, the speed limit on most highways is a little higher— about 75 miles (120 kilometers) per hour.

Generally, speed limits are intended to make driving safer for everyone. People who drive fast are more likely to die in car accidents. Over the past 40 years, lowering the speed limit on highways has lowered the amount of people who have died in car accidents. Some roads also have minimum speed limits. This means that drive slower than the minimum speed. Highways have minimum speed limits because people who drive too slowly can be dangerous when all of the other drivers are moving fast.

Speed limits are also made for environmental reasons. Driving slower uses less gas and causes less pollution. But, whatever the reason for the speed limit, no matter what country you are driving in, you must obey the speed limit. If you drive too fast, you will probably have to pay a fine, or penalty.

Friendly Cities

Some people say that people who live in cities are not friendly. They think that people who live in cities are always in a hurry and that they are too busy to talk to other people. This may be true. In cities that have more crime, people are sometimes afraid to be friendly to strangers. They think it is safer not to talk to people that they don't know.

A recent study looked at cities around the world to find out which city was the friendliest. The researchers tried to find out where people were the most helpful to other people. To find out, they pretended to have problems. For example, they dropped a pen while standing on the street and waited for someone else to pick it up. They also pretended to have an injury while walking down the street to see if someone would help them.

These researchers decided that the friendliest city in the world was the city of Rio de Janeiro in Brazil. Two other cities that they thought were friendly were San Jose, Costa Rica, and Madrid, Spain. The researchers found that, in general, smaller, quieter cities were friendlier than busy, crowded cities.

Dear Miss Manners,

Last spring my husband and I bought a new vacation home. It is a beautiful house on a private beach. We were looking forward to spending a peaceful, relaxing summer alone on the beach and in our new home. Well, we haven't even moved in yet and distant family members who we have not seen in years have started calling us! Suddenly, everyone wants to come and visit us and stay for a week! We don't mind having close family to come and stay for a day or two, but I don't want to spend the whole summer looking after lots of other people and entertaining them. I have already made a few distant family members angry by telling them we are too busy for visitors. Please help! How can I tell my family politely that I don't want any houseguests this summer?

----Fatima

Dear Fatima,

I'm sorry that your plans for a quiet summer are not working out. Uninvited guests can be annoying! I suggest that you tell your family that your house is not ready for visitors yet. Tell them that your husband will be fixing the leaky roof and you'll be cleaning up after the old owners. Suggest they come and visit you in the wintertime instead. This might keep people away until next summer at least!
