*Write a paragraph about The Cultural Differences. Give your opinion about it.

Each country has its own culture. There are many differences between different countries in culture. Those differences make our world a more colorful and exciting place to live. For example, Beijing has a wealth of traditional culture like Beijing Opera, Chinese painting, and calligraphy as well as the old Chinese features Chinese silk and tea. China is a city crowded with tourists from all over the world. They eat with chopsticks. Drinking tea traditionally, a visitor to a Chinese home is expected to sit down and drink tea while talking. We should respect cultural differences and learn from each other. We must understand the differences in countries' culture to live in peace. We should interact with others of different cultures and respect them.

Good luck

Dear Norah,

How are you and your family? I am happy to write this email to tell you about my life in China and the new cultural differences I have experienced here in Beijing. Beijing has a wealth of traditional culture like Beijing Opera, Chinese painting and calligraphy as well as the old Chinese features Chinese silk and tea. China is a city crowded with tourists from all over the world. They eat with chopsticks not spoons. The infinitive form can follow certain verbs, including the ones below.

afford, choose, decide, expect, forget, hope, learn, manage, offer, promise, refuse, remember, try

expect manage refuse remember try

We didn't expect to arrive so late.
They managed to get an earlier flight.
The airline refused to pay for our hotel.
I didn't remember to bring my toothbrush.
She tried to sleep on the plane, but she couldn't.

Remember: Some verbs are followed by gerunds. See Unit 4, page 40.

العامية

Verb + Noun/Pronoun + Infinitive

In Latin America, families allow children to stay up late.
In China, people don't expect you to tip.

☺ the two sentences in this part of the chart are different from the sentences in the first part.

(The sentences in the second part have an object—a noun or pronoun—after the main verb.)

☺ other verbs you know that follow this pattern.

Examples:

I asked him to leave.

I need you to help me.

I want my friend to come

Note: Some of these expressions can be used for advice (for example, It's advisable to..., It's a good idea to...).

☺ Use It's + infinitive. (to + V)

For example:

It's polite to let a person finish speaking before you speak.

It's impolite to interrupt a person.

It's rude to talk with your mouth full of food.

It's common to tip a waiter 15 percent.

It's wrong to cheat on a test.

It's advisable to drive carefully.

It's a good idea to write a thank-you note when you receive a gift.

Gerunds as Subjects

A gerund can be used as the subject of the sentence.

Traveling is a good way to learn about other cultures.

Tipping is not common in Japan.

- Writing in English is difficult.
- Watching TV is my favorite pastime.

Working is important for good health.
Running is good for your heart.

Gerund's form replaces a noun or pronoun and that we form a gerund by adding -ing to the verb.

☺ Use not before a gerund to make it negative.

For example:

Not arriving on time is considered impolite.

Not tipping in a restaurant in the United States is unusual.
