Reading passages:

Brothers Adnan and Ahmed were complete opposites. People who knew them both could hardly believe they were from the same family. The boys were not unkind toward one another, but their personalities were so different that it was difficult for them to reach a decision they both liked. Their mother frequently played the referee in their disagreements. Adnan, the older brother, was tall and athletic. He loved sports. He played football and basketball. Ahmed, the younger brother, hated sports. He was quieter and less active than his brother. He preferred spending his time on the computer, making short videos, and writing blog entries. The brothers taste in music was completely different, too. Adnan loved classic rock. He listened to bands. Ahmed didn't care much for those bands. He preferred spending his time streaming world music through headphones. Luckily for their parents, both boys enjoyed listening to music through headphones. One other thing the brothers did agree on was that they wanted a pet. Mom had resisted getting one, but after both brothers had pleaded and begged, she finally agreed." We can get a pet, if you two take care of it," she said. "That means you do the feeding, you do the training and if it needs to be walked, you do the walking" "No problem, Mom" Adnan and Ahmed said together.

Write a paragraph about Good and Bad Behaviors. Give your opinion about it.

These good manners are taught to us by our parents and family members first and then by our schoolteachers. Good Manners are important for everyone to become a good person. An act that is incorrect and unexpected is bad behavior such as disrespect and bullying. The one who has bad behaviors ignored by the world. I think we should have good behaviors to get respected. and become an example for others.

Write a paragraph about Bad Behaviors. Give your opinion about it.

There are many reasons that make students behave badly such as lack of discipline, too many students in one class. Furthermore, parents are spoiling their children. Therefore, we need to find the way to reduce these problems. I think the most important solution is the headmistress of school should make hard punishment to the students who are indiscipline. For example, when students are not going to class on time, or they skip the class the principal will call their parents to told them what their children do. By doing this, students will behave better

Impolite manners

Bad Behaviors

Chew with a mouth open is a bad manner. This behavior makes the other people feel disgusting. They may stop eating. We should change this bad habit. Because that would leave such a bad impression on your parents or friends. Nobody wants to see food fly out of your mouth.

1.What is the worst impolite behavior that you don't like?
2.How does it effect others?
3.Do you think we should change this bad habit? why?

Present Perfect with Already, Yet, Just

You can use the present perfect to talk about events that happened before now.
It is possible that the event happened earlier than expected.

Questions	Affirmative (+)	Negative (–)
Have you done the dishes yet?	Yes, I've already done them.	No, I haven't done them yet.
Have you already washed the clothes?	Yes, I've just washed them.	No, I haven't washed them yet.

☺these words used with the present perfect:
just = a short time ago
not yet = something expected hasn't happened, but we expect it will yet = in questions, this asks whether something expected has happened already = something happened before we expected it to has / have + already \ just + V3

VOLUNTEER volunteers read the sentences aloud

(They all have gerunds or words that end in -ing after verbs.)

Verb + Gerund

Use the gerund form (which ends in -ing) after the following verbs:

avoid	enjoy	give up	imagine	mind	stop
can't stand	finish	hate	keep	miss	suggest

☺ We form gerunds by adding -ing to verbs.

He can't stand waiting in line.
We miss being with our friends.
I don't enjoy sitting in the sun.
They stop playing tennis in the winter.

Although gerunds look like present participles (such as I am waiting for the bus), they act as nouns.
We can use a noun or a pronoun in place of a gerund.
For example:
I enjoy playing tennis. I enjoy tennis. I enjoy it.

doing that avoid doing that.
can't stand doing that can\can't + V must\mustn't + V

must expresses strong probability that something is true can't expresses very strong likelihood that something isn't true.

Can't/Must

Use can't and must to speculate about something. Use must to say we are sure of something. Use can't to say that we think something is impossible.

It can't be rain. There isn't a cloud in the sky. It must be the neighbor. She's watering the plants on her balcony.

Complete them with must or can't:

1. He passed the exam. He _____ be happy. (must)
2. 36 + 7 = 42. That _____ be right. (can't)
3. You just ate lunch. You _____ be hungry. (can't)
